CHARGES CHIEF WITH BLOCKING TERRORIST QUIZ

Five Workers Taken from Prosecutor.

Commissioner of Police Michael Hughes will be cited today to appear at once before the special grand jury to answer charges of obstructing justice. This was announced last night by Frank J. Loesch, chief prosecutor in the investigation of vote frauds, kidnappings, bombings, and murders in the recent primary.

Mr. Loesch's decision to cite Commissioner Hughes came after the latter last night removed five police detectives who have been assisting the special grand jury in its work. The action brought to a sensational head the repeated complaints of the prosecutor against the failure of the police to arrest the indicted political gangsters.

Hopes for Grand Jury Action.

"Hughes has demonstrated his determination to thwart our inquiry by any means at his hand," declared Mr. Loesch. "We propose to bring him to answer for his acts, and we trust to the grand jury to take whatever action is necessary and proper."

Corporation Counsel Sam Eitelson also was brought into the now heated dispute when Commissioner Hughes notified Mr. Loesch that the corporation counsel had given him an opinion holding it unlawful for a city policeman to be used for arresting persons indicted by a grand jury. The chief told Mr. Loesch that Eitelson held in an opinion only two days ago that caplases should be served only by the forces of the sheriff.

"That must mean that if a notorious murderer, indicted for his crime, or any of his policemen, they would turn about and walk away," the prosecutor exclaimed. "That would be the sheriff's lookout. I suppose. Maybe that accounts for the thousands of vicious criminals who prowled our streets un molested by Hughes' blind policemen."

Police Used for 100 Years. "Since our courts were first organized, a hundred years ago, Chicago policemen have served the caplases of the grand jury. It is extraordinary that now, when the grand jury indicts these cowardly gang slugs, killers and kidnapers, who have worked for the political lords of the city hall, the city's law department and its commissioner of police suddenly decide the police cannot perform this duty any more."

"The government is in the hands of the criminal and his allies," Mr. Loesch, after learning of the orders given by Commissioner Hughes to the five detectives, ordering them to report, in uniform, to their regular stations for patrol duty, telephoned the commissioner at his home. He demanded that the order be rescinded. "I will send you five detectives of my own choice," was the commissioner's reply, according to Mr. Loesch. The prosecutor replied that he would not accept such men; that he had the fullest confidence in the detectives he had, and he wanted to keep them.

Wants Sole Direction.

"I want men who will report to me," Mr. Loesch said later. "I don't want men who take their orders from Hughes and who would report to Hughes' political sponsor, State's Attorney Crowe, and to Boss Eiler and Boss Galpin. I won't accept them."

But the commissioner was adamant and refused to revoke his order transferring the men, and Mr. Loesch decided to cite him before the special grand jury.

Pressed by Mr. Loesch for his reasons for withdrawing the five men, Commissioner Hughes is said to have charged that Policeman Henry Miles, colored detective from the Maxwell street district, who is familiar with the activities in the 20th ward, had used violence with a colored witness summoned by the special prosecutors.

Chosen by Bruceau.

Miles was chosen as the best available man for the task by Sheridan A. Bruceau, chief investigator in the Grand Jury murder case for the special grand jury. The other four policemen, who, he said, were present at the time, and had failed to arrest their brother officer or report to the commissioner's office, William Higgins, Frank Sobol and Arthur E. Wentzel, and Waldo Basten, Higgins, Sobol and Wentzel had been assigned for

THE VOICE OF THE TEMPTER

REVOLVER SHOTS HIS METHOD OF SIGNALING LIFT

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[Special.]—Some peevish Democrat, conceivably a Texan, became out of patience with the elevator service in the Rice hotel this evening and, hauling forth a pistol that required only wheels and a trail to qualify as artillery, fired seven rounds through the windows of the elevator shaft doors on the fifth floor.

This disturbed the meditations of several other Democrats in adjacent rooms, but it was thought best not to remonstrate with the irritated brother, inasmuch as he still had one round left in the chamber. It was semi-officially explained, however, in order to reassure visiting Democrats who might wish to use the elevators that this was not the customary manner of signaling for elevators in Houston.

The management of the Rice hotel did not dignify the protest by recognizing either the gunfire or the holes in the windows. It seems to have been held that any one who would fire seven rounds when one or two would have served the same purpose undoubtedly was some uncouth person, not thoroughly city broke.

Along toward the cool of the evening there was a gust of small arms fire in the street in front of the Rice hotel, following which a crowd gathered and the police took steps. This appears to have been only a private shooting, however, and efforts to learn the identity of the corpse, if any, were tactfully but resolutely repulsed.

About the same time a Texas citizen who had been twitted about the effectiveness of the new west and the decline of small arms work, stepped out of the gallery and fired a shot through the window of the hotel down the street. This was strictly a pleasure shooting.

END IS IN SIGHT FOR RAINY SPELL EIGHT DAYS LONG

For the eighth consecutive day rain fell yesterday in Chicago, and water continued to stand in the streets in many sections. Although the official measurement showed only .11 of an inch fall, a cold drizzle continued through most of the day. The total fall in the eight day period increased to 5.18 inches.

Today, according to the weather bureau forecast, will be partly cloudy to cloudy, and the temperature will remain about the same. Tomorrow, however, is expected to be fair.

Yesterday's temperatures were far below normal. The lowest point reached was 51 degrees, at 1 a. m., within one degree of the coolest ever recorded on the same date. That was in 1823. The mean, 54 degrees, equaled the coolest mean for the day in fifty-seven years. The normal mean temperature for June 25 is 70 degrees.

Brennan Wins Night Sessions for Radio Fans

W-G-N will broadcast the Democratic national convention at Houston beginning this morning at 10:30 o'clock (11:30 Chicago time). Quin Ryan will be at the microphone.

Don't fail to tune in. At 7 o'clock this evening (8 o'clock Chicago time) Claude Bowers of New York will deliver the keynote speech.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Houston, Tex., June 25.—[Special.]—The voice of Illinois today swung the first important decision made here in connection with the national convocation of Democracy—the vote of the national committee to abandon tradition and hold the most important proceedings in the evening sessions, so that they may be carried to radio audiences throughout the country.

George E. Brennan, national committeeman from Illinois and one of the chief Smith strategists, put it over. The committee adopted his motion that the opening session tomorrow noon be cut short after the naming of delegates and that thereupon a recess be taken until 7 o'clock, when Claude G. Bowers, temporary chairman, will deliver the keynote speech.

Brennan intends to urge the plan all through the convention. He expects that the nominating speeches will be made at evening sessions and the platform may be read when the radio audience is at its maximum.

But the Illinoisan takes into account other values that accrue with the falling of dusk, factors of particular importance in Houston's warm climate. "I would be the last one to say anything disparaging concerning the wonderful weather we are having here," he said, following the meeting of the national committee, "but what is true everywhere in summer—that our energies relax a little in mid-afternoon, but pick up again when the cool of the evening arrives—is true here."

Near Gay and Lightness. "The evening also brings a different spirit from daytime, regardless of the temperature. In the evening we are more carefree and gay. The real feeling in a convention frequently has been displayed more clearly in one evening session than in a week of daylight meetings."

One canny spirit also suggested that Mr. Brennan had a cold, hard idea of economy in connection with radio-casting the big features of the meet. Maestri, famous tragedian, who is critically ill at his home here, was said to have taken a turn for the worse by his physicians tonight.

THE WEATHER

TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1928.

Sunrise, 5:19; sunset, 8:20; moon sets, 1:58 a. m. Wednesday: Jupiter is the morning and Saturn the evening star. Chicago and vicinity: Partly cloudy to cloudy Tuesday; Wednesday fair, followed by increasing cloudiness; not much change in temperature; moderate variable winds. Illinois: Partly cloudy to cloudy Tuesday; Wednesday fair, followed by increasing cloudiness; not much change in temperature.

TEMPERATURES IN CHICAGO

MAXIMUM, 4 P. M. 84; MINIMUM, 3 A. M. 63. 3 A. M. 63; 6 A. M. 64; 9 A. M. 65; 12 M. 66; 3 P. M. 67; 6 P. M. 68; 9 P. M. 69; 11 P. M. 70.

For 24 hours ended at 9 p. m. June 25: Mean temperature, 64; normal, 70; extreme since Jan. 1, 94 degrees. Precipitation, 0.11 inches; deficiency since Jan. 1, 2.35 inches.

cost the national committee a red cent.

But he didn't mention that to the national committee.

Tells His Reasons.

"The farmers of the middle west who were kicked out of Kansas City," Mr. Brennan continued, "are looking to this convention for relief."

"Let's give those farmers a chance to hear this speech over the radio. Let's put it into the homes of the millions who will listen to the loud speakers in their homes tomorrow night."

"We have plenty of time. It took us three weeks at Madison Square Garden, but here it looks as though three days would be sufficient."

"We're going to get most of our votes in the east this year," argued committeeman Frank Hague of New Jersey, "and we should give the east a good chance to hear the speech. Eight o'clock here would be too late because that would be 10 o'clock in New York by daylight saving time."

"Where," demanded Thomas J. Spellacy of Connecticut, "do you get that 'we're going to get our votes in the east'?" "We're going to get them everywhere," Brennan and other speakers for the corn belt audiences finally accepted the 7 o'clock hour.

Robert Mantell, Critically Ill, Takes Turn for Worse

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., June 25.—[AP.]—The condition of Robert Bruce Mantell, famous tragedian, who is critically ill at his home here, was said to have taken a turn for the worse by his physicians tonight.

Mrs. Al Smith in an Interview Minus Words

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[Special.]—Kitty Dunn Smith came to town today to attend the convention which is pretty sure to make her the wife of the Democratic nominee for President.

And presently she gave out a pleasant interview without words. At least the only words she uttered were a few fragmentary syllables about weather and radio which a committee of secretaries and censors and advisers slogged through their enigmatic political screens, adorned with an O. K. and passed on to the reporters.

One Independent Statement.

Mrs. Smith, whose girlhood was spent in the era when woman's place really was in the home, is no spall-binder and she probably was quite sincere when, in a prologue which was the only independent statement she made, she explained that she "didn't have much to say."

But she was anxious to chat with somebody about such uncontroversial subjects as New York's weather, Houston's hospitality and how pretty the pink roses looked in her apartment at the Warwick hotel. But even these conversational scraps were denied her by the winning committee which saw to it that every question and especially every answer passed through the screen of their authority.

"Did you have a pleasant trip from New York, Mrs. Smith?" somebody was bold enough to ask.

Had Delightful Trip.

"Yes, indeed," Mrs. Smith had a delightful trip, cool and pleasant," spoke up Mr. George V. Van Namee, Al Smith's pre-conventional manager, who had been right here in Houston while the special train was carrying Mrs. Smith from Manhattan to Texas.

"Are you going to attend all the sessions of the convention, Mrs. Smith?" hazarded another interrogator.

Mrs. Smith shifted her chair and looked to the right where sat Miss Rose Pedrick, her secretary. Miss Pedrick made the reply. "Certainly Mrs. Smith is going to attend all the sessions."

"Mrs. Smith"—this from a really radical investigator—"do you think your husband is going to win?"

No Political Predictions.

Kitty Dunn Smith's face lighted up, her lips parted, and she was full of action. From the left Mr. Van Namee bent toward her; from the right Miss Pedrick bent over her; from the back Mr. Van Namee's wife stepped up. So Mrs. Smith gave up. She slipped back a plump figure in a pretty print gown, into the shadows of the chair, and she said, demurely, but glibly: "I never make political predictions."

The triumvirate drew a relieved breath and fell back. But the questions kept on; so did the technique of the interview.

"I suppose you will telephone Gov. Smith every night after the sessions," a reporter suggested.

Mrs. Smith looked around for the secretary of telephones and Miss Pedrick mumbled something about the governor calling his wife. Mrs. Smith, with a verbal O. K., was thereupon happy to announce that her husband was going to telephone her every night.

Pleasant Breeze in Houston.

The information that finally did percolate through the conference included these items: This is the second time in 27 years Mrs. Al Smith has left Mr. Al Smith. That it really was very cool in New York; that it really was remarkably hot on the train, and that there really is a pleasant breeze in Houston.

Over in the corner, a blithe uninstructed delegate when it came to interview, sat Mrs. John J. Glynn, Al Smith's sister. And when a stray reporter asked her if she had enjoyed the trip she did not wait for any secretary's report. She smiled a big smile and she said: "Gee, yes."

SENATOR JOE FROM ARKANSAS LIKELY CHOICE

Dry, But Not Too Dry, for 2d Place.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[Special.]—Al Smith for President and Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas for Vice President is the Democratic national ticket forecast tonight in the light of the prevailing sentiment of the leaders on the eve of the assembling of the national convention tomorrow.

There was a strong band wagon movement to Smith throughout the day as the delegations poured into Houston and held their caucuses. With the east and west virtually sold for Smith, the solid south began to succumb to the irresistible course of events.

By night the lines of the opposition in the south to the nomination of a candidate who is a wet and a Roman Catholic were bent, twisted, and shattered. The only remaining uncertainty is whether Smith will be nominated on the first or the second ballot.

Mrs. Wilson May Second It.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war President, has been asked by the Smith managers to second the nomination of the governor. She has taken the invitation under advisement, indicating that, while she favors the choice of Smith, she desires to seek advice on the propriety of taking sides in the contest.

A striking development of the day was the spread of sentiment in favor of the nomination of Senator Robinson for Vice President. There is every indication tonight that he appeals more strongly to all elements of the party than does any other aspirant.

Whether he is acceptable to Smith is not known, and Smith, it is generally assumed, will do the choosing. Robinson, however, has commended himself strongly to the Smith leaders by his action yesterday in withdrawing as a favorite son entry in the presidential contest and releasing the Arkansas delegation to vote as it sees fit, which will be for Smith. More than any day, individual Robinson, by that action, started the band wagon movement in favor of Smith.

Dry, but Not Too Dry. The Smith managers are torn between the middle west and the south in the selection of the vice presidential candidate. Robinson falls from a state that is both wet and south. He is a dry, but not too dry to suit the eastern vets. As a supporter of the McNary-Haugen bill and leader of the effort to pass the measure over the veto, he qualifies as a logical offering to the favor of the midwestern farmers.

But what commends Robinson particularly to the consideration of the Smith following is his qualification to hold the Protestant Democrats in line for Smith and to stem the wave of religious intolerance in a vigorous stump speaking campaign.

Member of Church Council.

Robinson is a member of the Federal Council of Churches, the powerful propaganda organization of the Protestant sects, representing 23,000,000 church members. In addition he demonstrated his capacity to deal with the intolerance issue by his castigation of Hefflin in the senate last winter for the Alabama senator's attacks upon the Roman Catholic church.

The Smith leaders, however, are by no means a unit in favoring Robinson. There was considerable discussion among them today of the qualifications of Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Representative Rattery of Illinois, and Evans Woolen of Indiana.

Smith Band Wagon Crendence.

So far as the presidential nomination is concerned the day was a succession of band wagon developments insuring the nomination of Al Smith, not later than the second ballot. In fact, it now appears doubtful that the nomination can be delayed until the roll is called a second time.

The Smith managers insist that they do not want their man named on the first ballot, that they would prefer that every aspirant pull his full strength on the first ballot.

Not that they would not welcome a first ballot stampede as further evidence of the party behind Smith, but they are determined that if such a stampede develops it will be the result of a set of Smith measures but a spontaneous movement by elements hitherto opposed to Smith.

Ohio Hope Abated.

Both the Ohio and the Indiana delegations have sent word to the Smith leaders that they intend to vote for Smith not later than the second ballet and perhaps on the first. Of the 48 Ohio delegates, 47 are instructed for former Senator Pomeroy and one for Gov. Smith. George White, former Democratic national chairman, is the recorded second choice of the Buckeye state delegates.

When the Ohio delegation reached Houston today, however, it developed that 44 of its members are in favor of voting for Smith at the earliest opportunity.

Mr. Pomeroy did not come with the delegation, but Mrs. Pomeroy did and she is said to have in her possession a statement by her husband withdrawing in favor of Smith.

The 20 Hoosiers are instructed for Evans Woolen until by him released, but it is understood that Democratic State Chairman Peters has the Woolen release in his pocket ready for use in an emergency.

Developments in the southern delegations bore further evidence of the collapse of the effort of Senator Reed of Missouri to attract the southern dry to his support by the statement he issued last night declaring for enforcement of the prohibition law so long as it is the law and combating Smith's plan for modifying the Volstead act to permit states to define intoxicating liquor. The move fell flat, it being doubtful that it won a single dry delegate to support of Reed.

Virginia reported 5 out of 24 delegates for Smith. In North Carolina it was disclosed that there will be 4 1/2 votes out of 24 for Smith on the first ballot and more on the second if the balloting goes that far.

Missouri John Reed.
The Mississippi delegation voted to support Senator Pat Harrison of that state as a favorite son on the first ballot, but it is transpired that 11 of the 20 members are for Smith.

Even the Ku Klux Klan concedes the inevitability of the nomination of its pet abomination, Al Smith. Hiram Evans, the imperial wizard of the klan has been several days with the organization's chief, dour, William Zumbum, pulling the wires to prevent if possible the naming of Smith.

Today word came from the Ku Klux conference room that the imperial wizard has thrown up the sponge so far as the contest over the presidential nomination is concerned and is concentrating his effort now in behalf of the adoption of a bonus dry prohibition plank in cooperation with the Anti-Saloon league.

McAdoo's Last Gasp?
It was disclosed today that the mysterious move announced last night by Dan Roper on behalf of the remnant of McAdoo's dry to stay off the nomination of Smith was the instigation of a deluge of telegrams upon the delegates from their constituents.

Thousands of these telegrams are raining in upon the delegates tonight from persons identified with the prohibition crusade in all parts of the country. Each one reads: "Vote for a dry candidate."

This move represents the last gasp of the anti-Smith dry. It is being ignored and is producing no effect.

Texas Totters on Brink.
When the Texas delegation caucused it became known that this aggregate, which was supposed to be rock-ribbed in opposition to Smith, is tottering on the brink. Out of the 40 members 19 were reported ready to vote for the governor on the first ballot. Gov. Moody was finally authorized to vote the delegation for Jesse Jones as the favorite son of Texas on the first ballot.

Thereafter the Smith men in the delegation will assert their right to go to the New York governor.

CORN BELT MAY WRITE ITS OWN FARM AID PLANK

Democrats Determined to Capitalize Revolt.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
(Special Tribune Staff Writer.)
Houston, Tex., June 25.—(Special.)—Western delegations, arriving here today, filled the air with shouts that the corn belt revolt is one of the greatest campaign assets the Democratic party has for next November.

The farm plank became the core of activities. Here the party leaders, are doing the talking, instead of the farm organization leaders as at Kansas City.

The uprisers say the corn belt is being invited almost to write its own ticket.

Informal Conferences.
Informal conferences have taken a trend favoring a plank pledging the following:

1. A special session of congress in March to put through farm relief.

2. Passage of legislation that will give the farmer economic parity with other industries.

Tentative drafts have been prepared, a dozen and more of them. Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York, intimate friend of Gov. Al Smith, has a draft of one. Both New York senators, Wagner and Copeland, voted for the McNary-Haugen bill and so did most of the Tammany delegation in the house.

As viewed in the inner circles, the farm plank must be satisfactory to the corn belt agriculture as personified here by the leaders of farm organizations. At the same time it must not contain anything which might injure Gov. Smith in the eastern states, where industry has grown up behind the protective tariff wall.

Likewise it must not miff the old line Democrats in those states of the south which have not become industrialized.

Word from Corn Belt.
The trend of thought is that the Democrats do not want to give to the industrialized east and north any idea that they contemplate tariff tinkering that might injure industry. At the same time they do not want to warm up to the idea of a farm plank that might look like a Democratic commitment to republican protective tariff doctrine.

They declare the two viewpoints easily can be reconciled in a plank that will be satisfactory to all elements in the party, and that will be a strong bid for the farm vote in the old Republican stronghold in the upper Mississippi valley.

Stories of the reaction of the corn belt to the rejection of the minority plank at Kansas City endorsing the theory of the equalization fee were brought to town.

who had control of the government, for eight years to enact any constructive farm legislation or to manifest a sympathetic attitude towards agriculture.

Midwest Discontent.
The delegations from Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin hit the assembled Democrats with a resounding thump on their arrival. They brought the mid-west agrarian discontent up into high relief as Democracy's great bet for 1928.

George Brennan, Michael Igoe, Robert Switzer and other Illinois leaders conferred with farm organization leaders over a plank. A rough draft of the plank embraced part of the farm utterance in the Democratic state platform adopted at Springfield in April. It read:

"The present administration has been particularly diligent in enacting revenue legislation and other legislation releasing the very rich from taxation, turning a deaf ear to the distress of our large agricultural population."

See Rich Growing Richer.
"Under the protecting care of the secretary of the treasury and those who view economic matters from his standpoint, very rich are growing richer every day."

"The great industries have prospered, but the prosperity which has come to them under the present administration does not reach the farming sections, and practical legislation which would relieve distress in the grain states has been rejected, and under the present administration will continue to be rejected."

"Industry has secured protection through the tariff law, labor has been protected by the immigration law, the railroads have been protected by the transportation act, but the farmers have been left to shift for themselves."

After this preamble, a pledge is being talked of which will make no mention of McNary-Haugen or equalization fee, but will promise "economic equality for agriculture."

The Democratic viewpoint as expressed on all sides today is that the Republican party is the party of "special privileges," and that it is time to cut the farmer in on the "privileges," just as industry, banking, the railroads and labor.

SMITH 'TERRIBLE PRESIDENT,' BUT DIXIE'S FOR HIM

It's 'Singular' Convention, Anyhow, Pegler Says.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)

Houston, Tex., June 25.—(Special.)—The dry southern Democrats seem to be in somewhat the same distressful plight as that of the unfortunate gentleman who kept on playing the crooked roulette wheel because it was the only roulette wheel in town.

It has long been maintained, with great heat and perspiration by the dry southern Democrats now gathered in Houston, that the Hon. Al Smith, governor of New York, would make a terrible President of the United States.

Yet one is given to understand that after Gov. Smith has been nominated by the Democrats, if Mr. Smith is to be their nominee, they intend to vote for him, would stop insisting that he is a terrible man.

To my naive way of thinking, this great group of citizenry, if it is to be a party, should find itself marching down the streets of Mobile and Chattanooga of nights during the next few months carrying torchlights and waving banners reading, "Vote for Al Smith, That Terrible Man."

A Prize Fight Comparison.
In the prize fight industry I have known situations similar to this, but only to a certain degree. There was a time, for instance, when Mr. Tex Rickard lost no opportunity to insist that Mr. Gene Tunney was a terrible prize fighter and no drawing card.

But as soon as it became evident that there was nobody else to fight Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship, Mr. Rickard decided that Mr. Tunney was a fine boxer with a tremendous following, and if you had recalled his previous remarks about Mr. Tunney to him, he would have said he was misguided. If Mr. Rickard had kept on insisting right up to the night of the Philadelphia uplift ceremony that Tunney was just a ham prize fighter and no drawing

INDIANA DRYS WARN WOOLLEN NOT TO RUN ON TICKET WITH AL

Indianapolis, Ind., June 25.—(Special.)—Professional dry leaders of Indiana were rallying tonight in opposition to the proposal to nominate Evans Woollen, the Indiana Democracy's favorite son candidate for President, to the second place on the national ticket with Al Smith.

The Rev. E. E. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, announced he had sent messages to prominent members of the Indiana delegation at Houston including E. Earl Peters, state chairman, and Charles A. Greathouse, national committeeman, urging that Woollen's friends do not present his name for the nomination as Vice President on the ticket with Smith.

card, the customers quite naturally would have taken his word for it and would have absented themselves from his exhibition in large numbers.

Fall to Imitate G. O. P. Calm.
The Democrats seem to be much more petulant about their political prejudices than the Republicans are. In Kansas City, Mr. Hoover's most enthusiastic opponents merely said they preferred somebody else. They dissembled in a calm manner, saying who votes for Smith, there will be two dry Democratic women who will jump over the fence for Hoover," said Senator Moses.

"Women will play a more important part in the coming election than ever before," Mrs. Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, and United States Senator George T. Moses of New Hampshire, who presided over the Kansas City convention.

"To every deluded wet Republican who votes for Smith, there will be two dry Democratic women who will jump over the fence for Hoover," said Senator Moses.

the one-man-band, neglecting his winds for a moment but continuing to kick the drum and squeeze the concertina, replied: "This band is in no way identified with Mr. Connelly."

Opportunity for Hoosiers.
Mr. Rickard arrived this afternoon. Out of his experience he should be able to give the dry southern Democrats some helpful advice on the relative values of boosting and knocking.

When Mr. Rickard ran a gambling house in Alaska, he usually employed a few naive gentlemen to circulate from table to table, playing his money against his roulette wheels in order to stimulate business.

"We called them boosters," Mr. Rickard says. "We used to pay boosters as much as $15 a night. We never paid no knockers, though."

MOSES AND MABEL LET NEW YORK IN ONELECTION NEWS
New York, June 25.—(Special.)—Two ardent supporters of Herbert Hoover's presidential aspirations visited New York today, predicted Gov. Smith's nomination at Houston would take place on an early ballot, declared he could not be elected and said that women would be responsible.

They were Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, and United States Senator George T. Moses of New Hampshire, who presided over the Kansas City convention.

"To every deluded wet Republican who votes for Smith, there will be two dry Democratic women who will jump over the fence for Hoover," said Senator Moses.

"Women will play a more important part in the coming election than ever before," Mrs. Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, and United States Senator George T. Moses of New Hampshire, who presided over the Kansas City convention.

Mrs. Lydia Moore, 54, of 58 West Washington street, Oak Park, was found dead in her home yesterday.

Convention of Singulars.
The singularity of this Democratic convention is most singular, if I may say so. There is only one candidate for the nomination. The principal diversion in the lobby of the Rice hotel is a one-man band, and the most prominent, or most obvious, celebrity amid the crowds on the streets is none other than Mr. One-Eyed Connelly, of Hither and Yon. I was told that One-Eyed Connelly had become impregnated of the one-man band, selecting the spots where this gifted artist was to discourse upon his accordion, drum, harmonica, cymbals and bass, and attending to the collection of the contributions.

But when asked if this were true, Mr. Connelly said: "No, sir, I am not a one-eyed man. I have two eyes."

TODAY'S PROGRAM FOR CONVENTION; NIGHT SESSION TO BE HELD

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[Special.]—The program of the Democratic convention tomorrow follows:

NOON.

Call to order by Clem Shaver, chairman of the convention.

Invocation by Bishop Sam Hay.

Reading of convention call by Secretary George Olvany of national committee.

Roll call of states for naming of committees.

Recess.

7 P. M.

Introduction of Claude G. Bowers, temporary chairman.

Keynote speech by Chairman Bowers.

Recess.

Olvany's new system for the exploitation of Al Smith.

Pending what may happen at Houston, Al himself is happily taking care of his grandchildren in Albany.

He likes that task and considers himself proficient in it. All his family are here except daughter Emily—wife of Major Warner—who is recovering from the grip.

Trusted Aid at Albany.

George Graves is not here. George Graves is assistant to the governor.

No man is closer to him in the every day affairs of life at Albany.

This week he is with the governor all day and far into the night. His presence in Albany is probably more important than his presence here would be.

He is devoted to Al Smith, believes in his star, trusts him, knows his capacity for public business.

But George Graves is also a Republican, a Protestant and a Mason.

Hence he is a certain detachment which is invaluable to Al Smith in the present crisis.

George Graves has been in Albany since the governorship of Levi P. Morton and he knows more things that need not be said and more things that it is not necessary to sing than any other man who has dealt with Empire state governors these thirty years.

Once—before Al Smith had the title "assistant" to the governor—conferred on George Graves, the party wheel horses, were talking with him as to whom he would make his private secretary. That was when he first was elected governor.

For years George Graves had been doing a private secretary's work for governor after governor, but the official private secretary was only an ornament.

Al Settles It?

Finally the discussion became rather pointless, for Al only listened.

"Well," remarked a veteran politician, "it doesn't make much difference whom you appoint because George Graves will do the work anyway."

"That's an idea," exclaimed Al, "why not appoint George Graves?"

And he did.

So, in your convention speculations for this week, don't leave out of the picture George Graves—one of those quiet men.

Ohio Race to Aid Harmony

PROF. N. D. HARRIS RESIGNS CHAIR AT NORTHWESTERN

Prof. N. Dwight Harris has resigned his position as head of the department of political science at Northwestern university, it was definitely announced yesterday by his brother, Albert W. Harris, chairman of the board of directors of the Harris Trust and Savings bank.

Prof. Harris, who is in Europe, plans to remain for some time in order to finish several literary works he has started. He is regarded as an authority on international law and diplomacy. A son of the late Norman Wait Harris, he had occupied the chair of political science at Northwestern since 1915. He was a member of Col. House's committee which gathered data for the peace conference.

A week ago his resignation was unofficially announced, but President Walter Dill Scott at that time said he had not been informed of it and doubted if it were true. He added that Prof. Harris would be welcome back at the end of such time as his literary efforts required.

SHOT TO DEATH

FORCING WAY INTO HOME OF NEGRO

Thomas Carroll, 25 years old, 2342 Washington boulevard, was shot and killed today by David Geter, colored, 2354 Maypole avenue, in the latter's home.

According to the story told by the Negro at the Warren avenue police station, Carroll was attempting to enter the house through a window when he fired three shots at him with a pistol. All three hit, one in the head and two in the chest. The police, although accepting this story in the main, decided to hold Geter and his wife for questioning.

The body of Carroll was identified by pay vouchers showing that he had been employed as an entertainer at a radio station at intervals. The police theory was that he entered the Geter home by mistake.

Senator Walsh Will Not Attend Houston Convention

Helen, Mont., June 25.—[AP.]—United States Senator T. J. Walsh, chairman of the 1924 national Democratic convention and a candidate for the party's presidential nomination until a few weeks ago, will not be present at Houston.

Senator Walsh, who was named with J. Bruce Kerner, national committeeman, to head the Montana delegation and to whom Montana is pledged to turn if Gov. Smith cannot be nominated, reached here last night from Washington and will spend the summer in Montana.

Owley, Ex-Legion Head, Comes Out for Al Smith

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[AP.]—Alvin Owley, past national commander of the American Legion and now candidate for the Democratic nomination to the senate from Texas, today described Alfred E. Smith as the "outspoken choice of the majority of the Democrats at this convention and the entire country," and advocated his nomination on an early ballot.

Democrats May Use Gavel Made from Jackson's Tree

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[AP.]—A gavel made from a hickory tree at the Hermitage, Tenn., home of Andrew Jackson, may be used tomorrow in calling the Democratic convention to order.

HOUSTON WEATHER IS HOT AND STICKY WITH NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[AP.]—Weather for the Democratic national convention opening promises to be hot and sticky, much the same as it has been the last few days. Weather Forecaster Dangerfield was unable tonight to promise anything better than a continuance of the heat with the probability of cloudy weather and local thunderstorms.

Houston was doing everything possible to alleviate the discomfort of the delegates and convention visitors today but a hot sun ran the mercury up to 89 at 4:30 p. m., and as the day wore on the humidity continued to drop from its high point of 91 at 7 a. m. to 59 at 12:30 p. m., and to 45 by 4:30 o'clock. The coolest part of the day was between 3 and 4 a. m., when the temperature hovered around 74.

Among the downstaters who objected to the resolution and protested splitting the delegation on an issue that might be differently handled in the national platform, were A. L. Hereford of Springfield, E. R. Kimbrough of Danville, William A. Moody of East St. Louis, and Samuel A. Hugbart of Madison.

Delegate Hugbart was the last man about whose attitude toward Smith there was any doubt and his remarks were construed as showing his willingness to vote for the New Yorker.

Back Strong Farm Plank.

Following this action Delegate Kimbrough, a former judge; Congressman A. J. Sabath and others stressed the necessity of Illinois backing a strong agricultural plank. Igoe gave assurance he would do his utmost in that cause on the platform committee.

The state approved by the leaders in an earlier conference was adopted without a hitch. It was headed with the name of Brennan both as national committeeman and chairman of the delegation. In expressing his appreciation the veteran said he realized he had reached a point where he should be sparing himself physically, but felt that he would be able to do something for his state under the next administration if he remained in the harness.

Convention Committee.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey, as had been predicted, was elected national committeewoman. Other elections for the machinery of the convention were as follows:

Three delegates, who were absent from the caucus, were reported delayed, but there was a definite statement that William E. Dever, former mayor of Chicago, a delegate at large, will not be in the convention.

JOBLESS AND 64, SENDS SUICIDE NOTE TO FRIEND

Henry Wilken, 7539 Bennett avenue, received a letter yesterday from his old friend, Small H. Howart, 64, of 3025 East 95th street, who was tired of trudging the streets looking for work, humiliated by refusals although he was able to do as much as younger men.

"When you get this I will be dead," the letter continued. "My body can be found in the lake at 104th street. Have me cremated. I was born May 10, 1864, and have lived in South Chicago since 1932. You may need this information at the inquest."

Last night the police and coast guards were dragging the lake at the spot indicated for the body.

ILLINOIS IS SOLID FOR AL; DECLINES TO SPLIT ON RUM

Dry Downstaters Dislike Cermak's Plank.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Houston, Tex., June 25.—[Special.]—So solidly was Illinois for Al Smith in its caucus tonight that it refused to split even on the old Chicago versus downstate argument over the liquor question.

Trouble threatened for a time, when after the organization matters had been attended to, A. J. Cermak, president of the Cook county board of commissioners and nominee for United States senator, sought endorsement for a wet plank he wanted the state to support for incorporation in the platform.

Resolution Side-tracked.

But his resolution was sidetracked without a roll call. The big factor in the action was a manifestation that there was a row of this character, the solid vote of the delegation would go for Smith on the second ballot at the latest.

One downstate after another arose and said he was against the Cermak resolution—although it was much more moderate than the Chicagoan proposed several days ago. They said they were ready to vote for Smith if the prohibition question were not pushed.

Cermak was obturate for a time in his insistence upon a roll call, but the quiet, easy way in which George E. Brennan, just reflected national committeeman, presided over the discussion and the cool counsel of some Chicagoans including Melvin A. Traynor, president of the First National bank, and State Representative Michael L. Igoe, who is to represent the state on the resolutions committee, influenced the majority to leave the resolution in Igoe's hands without specific instructions.

Guard Against Split.

Among the downstaters who objected to the resolution and protested splitting the delegation on an issue that might be differently handled in the national platform, were A. L. Hereford of Springfield, E. R. Kimbrough of Danville, William A. Moody of East St. Louis, and Samuel A. Hugbart of Madison.

AL SMITH SEES SON GRADUATE; PREACHES GOSPEL OF HARD WORK

Albany, N. Y., June 25.—[AP.]—Gov. Alfred E. Smith pictured himself in an address today as the political warrior in whose nostrils the scent of battle is always sweet.

"Never take it easy in life," he told the graduating class at the Academy of the Immaculate Conception, the class of which his youngest son, Walter, was president. "Nobody ever got anywhere without working for it, and if they did they found it wasn't worth while. If I hadn't had to run for it I would have quit the governorship after the second time."

The governor told reporters that he wasn't going to say anything of political import and all they could write about him was what he was doing.

"And what are you doing?" one reporter asked.

"Nothing," the governor replied, with a grin.

As each of the 47 members of the class was handed a diploma the student would kneel before Bishop Gibbons and kiss his episcopal ring. When young Smith's name was called, however, the bishop handed the diploma to Gov. Smith. Father and son grinned at each other as the governor handed the 17 year old boy his certificate. Walter Smith then kissed the bishop's ring and took his place among his fellows.

When called for a speech the governor joked about his own lack of formal schooling.

"But I have degrees of doctor of laws from four institutions now," he said. "And all I had to do to get them was to be elected governor four times."

He told about the man who asked him what his college degree was when he was a state assemblyman.

"I told him I was a F. F. M.," he said, "and when he asked what that was, I told him Fulton Fish Market."

The governor was a fish market clerk for a time.

The machinery of the convention were as follows:

Three delegates, who were absent from the caucus, were reported delayed, but there was a definite statement that William E. Dever, former mayor of Chicago, a delegate at large, will not be in the convention.

RAY DEMOCRATS WILL SEE ABOVE BUCKET OF BEER

Women Drys Challenged to Debate Prohibition.

CHICAGO, June 25.—(Special.)—The women at this Democratic national convention may not be any more fundamentally a part of the party's councils than were the men at the meeting held at Kansas City a week ago. But, rhetorically, these women are certainly concerned with something more serious than the fate of Alice Roosevelt Longworth's hair.

The point of controversy is the local nature of a glass of beer and the social status of a hip flask.

Every woman down here has a conviction, one way or the other. When the two convictions meet there is much talk. There is much talk, also, even when they don't meet.

Offers to Debate.

The talk, while the feminine drys were sitting in the First Baptist church, praying that the Democratic party would "see above a bucket of beer," Miss Elizabeth Marbury, New York's national committeewoman, who is a hotel room a few blocks away offering to debate the Volstead act with Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson of Chevy Chase, Md., leader of the church.

When the questions that Miss Marbury wants most to put to Mrs. Nicholson are in substance these:

"Do you think that God is going to send down money from heaven to carry out the law enforcement you propose?"

"How can you be so sure of God's assistance?"

"And if the plan isn't financed by divine strategy, how can the government treasury and the public taxes and the tariff to support the standing army of men necessary to patrol the perimeter of the United States at every point at which international commerce might seep through?"

"And you," Miss Marbury warned, "I am not challenging this lady to a debate. But I am pleasantly inclined to converse with her. But she won't talk with me; they never do, and yet she's a wife. Lady Astor came to this country and made elaborate state visits that the United States was doing much better under prohibition. A certain organization arranged a public meeting between us. I was willing to go anywhere in the United States. But two weeks passed and nothing happened."

Lady Astor's Sidekick.

"Then I called Lady Astor by long distance and her husband told me she was too busy. That's what happens in all this talk, talk."

Another thing that Mrs. Marbury still has deep throated voice fairly booms through the halls is the way Mrs. Nicholson and her assistants declare they speak for twelve million feminine votes.

"I control only one vote," declared Mrs. Marbury, and "that gives me plenty to do."

Over at the church, whither one hundred zealous women, preceded by 11 donkeys, had marched in industrial parade, the meeting went on all day. It began early this morning at a breakfast at which Dan Hoody, Texas' dry governor, had been expected to speak but did not.

Predicts A's Defeat.

At the breakfast Mrs. Edward Thurman Smith of St. Louis, Mo., shouted out the prediction that "a wet nomination in June means a wet blanket in November," and pleaded that "the very of democracy" should not turn into the "party of delirium tremens."

She referred to Miss Marbury not by name but as "the Tammany woman who is 71, but who recently said 'I have my bootlegger, even as you and dry,'" and shouted that "no southern or western woman would ever say that," as southern and western women cheered.

A trio of votes from the state of

Women Take Sides on Prohibition

Miss Elizabeth Marbury, national committeewoman from New York, dry in habit but wet in thought, who says she would like to converse with Mrs. Nicholson.

Mrs. J. W. Nicholson of Chevy Chase, Md., who is one of the leaders among the women who are opposed to Al Smith and a wet plank. She is not a delegate.

Washington flashing Al Smith buttons started in to make comments about we don't appeal to the emotions; we don't," and the drys, at their end of the table, were all for asking them to leave the meeting or take off the Smith buttons.

Mrs. Nella Hurd, delegate from Seattle and one of the trio, defended her position for modification, by stating, sharply, across the table, "Well, if you lived up near the border where we do, you'd see prohibition agents shoot down innocent fishermen on suspicion and you'd see wealthy people get their drinks from Canada, then you'd think something was the matter."

Among those who sat at the speakers' table were Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Boston, chairman of the committee of 100 for national law enforcement; former Gov. Pat Neff and Mrs. Neff of Texas, Mrs. Emily Newhall Blair of Missouri, vice chairman of the national Democratic committee, and former State Senator Belle Kearney of Mississippi.

WIFE WINS RENO DIVORCE FROM DREW PEARSON

RENO, Nev., June 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. Felicia Pearson of Washington, D. C., today was granted a divorce here from Andrew Russell (Drew) Pearson, who for the last two or three years has been a member of the staff of the United States Daily, published in Washington.

Mrs. Pearson is the daughter of Mrs. Elmer Schlesinger of New York, formerly Countess Glycks, whose home used to be in Chicago, where her mother, Mrs. Robert W. Patterson, resides.

In her divorce bill, Mrs. Pearson made the charge of failure to provide. She and Drew Pearson were married in San Diego on March 25, 1925. They have a 2 year old child and Mrs. Pearson was granted its custody and permission to resume her maiden name, Glycks.

Pearson is the son of a university extension lecturer connected with Swarthmore.

Wilbur Is Peacemaker in Fight Between Caddies

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—(Special.)—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur acted as peacemaker in a fight between three caddies at the Congressional Country club. The secretary arrived just as one of the boys threatened to kill a youth, already beaten up, with a golf club if he attempted to rise. Mr. Wilbur stopped the fighting and stood on guard until the aggressor was taken away. He was an hour late for dinner.

COUNCIL ZONES LAKE FOREST TO HOLD 94,000

Half Acre Is Minimum in Millionaire.

Ultimately Lake Forest will have 94,000 inhabitants and 65,000 of them will live in homes that have—each of them—a half-acre yard.

Those figures on future population were given to the city council there last night by Architect H. T. Frost. The council itself passed an ordinance requiring each person who ordains a home in the more exclusive districts to have a lot of 20,000 square feet, which is approximately a half acre.

Alters Plan for Subdivision.

In effect, the ordinance was a victory for Benjamin Franklin Affleck and a group of neighbors who set out several weeks ago to prevent Van Wagenen Ailing from subdividing his property on Washington road for homes with plebeian yards spreading over only 7,500 square feet.

Both Mr. Affleck and Mr. Ailing qualify as wealthy men, but Mr. Affleck, who lives across the road from the Ailing property, felt that persons who live on only 7,500 square feet ought to do it somewhere else.

The council voted unanimously that all along Washington road, from Deerpath avenue to Rosemary avenue, the 26,000 square feet ruling should govern. The added provision was made that it governed as far as 225 feet from the street line.

Line Divides Ailing's Home.

This 225 foot line cuts through the house which Mr. Ailing now lives in. "Yes," he said, "I have a Queen Anne parlor and a Mary Ann kitchen."

But as it was pointed out to him, he has enough land back of the dead-line to erect thirteen homes on plebeian sized lots.

"My goodness, what a rabbit warren that will make," said Ald. George Richardson in some horror. Ald. Lawrence Smith opposed having the dead-line only 225 feet back from Washington road, but that figure stood.

Mr. Frost stated in his talk that Lake Forest has 14 square miles of territory. Of this, 13,000 acres are zoned on the 20,000 foot basis, and 1,537 acres on the 7,500 foot restriction.

"On the 13,000 acres, the number of people who can live is 65,000; on the 1,537 acres, 23,000. There will be left 6,000 or so in flats above stores. That makes a potential population of 94,000, and I believe this council should keep the high restrictions," the architect said.

AL CAPONE BASKING IN FLORIDA—GUARD LOCKED INTO CELL

While "Scarface Al" Capone regales his friends in Florida, bathing in his private pool on Palm Island there and fights the Miami authorities to maintain his residence in the land of sunshine, his Chicago bodyguard known both as Frank Diamond and John Romano does not fare so well at home.

Diamond, alias Romano, was sentenced to sixty days in the House of Correction yesterday and fined $10 and costs by Judge George A. Curran on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. And last night he was in the Bridewell.

The gang chieftain's bodyguard was arrested last Saturday by Lieut. William Cox and his bureau squad. They followed him, riding in his expensive automobile, into a garage at Taylor and Paulina streets. There they told Judge Curran they saw him hand a revolver to Frank Hoppe, an employee. Hoppe in court claimed the gun as his and accompanied the other to the Bridewell.

Finds Poisoned Woman at Foot of Sheridan Statue

Police last night were attempting to identify an attractive woman about the age of 30, who was found lying on the sidewalk and struck Mrs. Carlson and her husband, John. The couple were to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in a few weeks.

De. C. C. Guy, house physician for the Stevens hotel, was exonerated by a coroner's jury in connection with an accident Sunday in which the doctor's car collided with a motorcycle ridden by Patrolman John S. Swartz of the county highway police, killing the policeman.

FORMER BANK CASHIER KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Albert Young, 55 years old, 4948 Blackstone avenue, really operator and former cashier of the Douglas National bank, 3531 South State street, was fatally injured yesterday by a motorist who did not stop after the accident. He was taken to the Chicago hospital by a fruit dealer, who found him on the sidewalk near Fort street and Cottage Grove avenue.

This death and three others during the day raised Cook county's 1928 motor toll to 443. The other victims:

Isadore Brown, 46 years old, 5157 Argyle street. Struck at 21st street and Oakley avenue by car driven by Claude Lewandowski, 1920 South Troy street.

Robert Haydon, 24 years old, 6246 Blackstone avenue. Hurt in a collision between his coupe and a taxicab at 11st street and South Park way.

Gladys Chambers, 7 years old, 3539 Wallace street. She was struck on June 18 by a Bowman dairy truck driven by Ralph Knoll, 5549 Wentworth avenue.

Mrs. Matilda Carlson, 72 years old, 135 West 111th street, was possibly fatally injured when she was struck near 111th street and Forest avenue by an automobile driven by Alex Johnson, 335 East 115th street. Johnson's car got out of control, ran up on the sidewalk and struck Mrs. Carlson and her husband, John. The couple were to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in a few weeks.

De. C. C. Guy, house physician for the Stevens hotel, was exonerated by a coroner's jury in connection with an accident Sunday in which the doctor's car collided with a motorcycle ridden by Patrolman John S. Swartz of the county highway police, killing the policeman.

FRAULEIN RASCHE IN CANADA TO PLAN SEA FLIGHT

New York, June 25.—(P)—Miss Thea Rasche, German girl stunt flyer, and her plane were in the province of Quebec tonight, where she is preparing to fly within a few days to Harbor Grace, N. F., to refuse for her proposed trans-Atlantic flight, Mrs. James A. Stillman, banker of the flight, announced.

The monoplane North Star, in which Miss Rasche hopes to span the Atlantic, arrived at Camp Madeline, a new air field near Three Rivers, Que., tonight after a flight from Hadley airport, South Plainfield, N. J. It carried a pilot and a mechanic. Miss Rasche is at Grand Mere, having preceded it to Canada by train.

Mrs. Stillman's announcement ended hours of conjecture that arose when the plane took off from the Jersey airport for an unannounced destination.

Today Supreme Court Justice Valente refused to make permanent an injunction to restrain Miss Rasche from making a transoceanic flight under any management but that of Howard W. Harwell.

BLIND, ROBBED, TESTIFIES; GETS THREAT OF DEATH

But Case Will Go to Grand Jury Today.

When Richard Boehler, a blind motion picture organist, goes before the grand jury this morning he will tell how he has been threatened with death if he persists in appearing against Fred Leonard. An indictment is being sought against Leonard who is held in $25,000 bonds on charges of holding up the sightless man, robbing him of $100 and the cane he used in place of eyes and then knocking him unconscious with a revolver.

Boehler was robbed and beaten on the night of May 23, as he was returning to his apartment at 3556 Franklin boulevard, after playing at a theater. He alighted from a street car at Chicago and Central Park avenues, and as he was feeling his way along with his cane to go alone the three blocks to his home, he was stopped.

Vote Delays Assault.

"Come, Dick," said a voice which his highly sharpened sense of hearing recognized, "stick 'em up!" The next instant his cane was kicked out of his hands and he was struck in the face. He asked his assailant by name to take his money, but not to harm him. The latter then took the blind man's watch, salary, and knocked him to the pavement.

A passerby found Boehler dazed and bleeding, and sent him home in a cab.

When the organist told his story to Capt. William Killen of the Austin police, detectives were sent to arrest Leonard. They found he had fled from his home a few blocks from that of Boehler on the west side. He was captured a few days later.

Several days ago when the blind organist was first to have appeared before the grand jury, he told Capt. Killen last night, the telephone rang in his apartment. He still was at home recuperating from the attack and the shock of it.

Geis Threat of Death.

"Hello!" said the voice. "You're the blind man who is prosecuting Fred Leonard. Let me tell you you'll never get out of the grand jury if you ever start out. Get what I mean?" And the man hung up the receiver.

Leonard was held to the grand jury by Judge Francis Borrelli on June 15. He has since been in the county jail. "I have utterly no sympathy with a man who would do the despicable act you have done," Judge Borrelli told him. "But I can feel some sympathy for you when I think of what a jury in the Criminal court will do to you."

As the police led Leonard away from the court room, he fell in a faint in their arms. The case will be presented to the grand jury this morning by Assistant State's Attorney Edwin J. Spira.

RABIES MENACE GROWING HERE, DOCTORS WARN

Take Kegel Data; to Muzzle Dogs.

Rabies has increased to an alarming extent among the dogs of Chicago, according to a report made yesterday by the Institute of Medicine to the American Medical association.

In the last ten months nineteen persons have died in Chicago from hydrophobia caused by dog bites, according to Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, commissioner of health. Only fifty-nine hydrophobia deaths were reported in the United States during 1927.

No Deaths for 8 Years.

For a period of eight years previous to 1927 no human deaths from rabies occurred in Chicago, the report states. Commenting on these facts, the report says:

"The emergency demands prompt and drastic action. It is well known that rabies can be eradicated by the restriction of the liberty of unmuzzled dogs to the premises of their owners and the destruction of all stray, unmuzzled animals."

Increases in rabies cases in the last two years is shown by health department reports. From January to May, 1928, of 60 dog heads examined, 5 showed rabies. In the first five months of 1927 the rabies figures were 11 in 56. For a like period in 1928, examination of 704 heads revealed infection in 561. The Pasteur treatment against rabies was given to 1,846 persons known to have been bitten by dogs from August, 1927, to date.

Many Treated in Secret.

The report indicates many victims have been treated by individual physicians and not reported to the health department. The Institute of Medicine recommends:

"Strict enforcement of the city ordinance [against unmuzzled dogs running at large] for at least ninety days should be effective in combating this situation. Valuable individual dogs may be protected to some degree by vaccination against the bite of their rabid fellows, but for community protection that method probably is too expensive."

"All the resources of the community available for stamping out rabies should be placed at the disposal of the official health agencies."

BOARD SESSION TOMORROW PICKS SCHOOLS' CHIEF

Bogan Appears Choice;
Caldwell Reticent.

On the eve of the selection of William McAndrew's successor to the superintendency of Chicago public schools, activity quickened in school circles yesterday. President H. Wallace Caldwell has set tomorrow's regular meeting of the board as the time for that election.

Despite the fact that the board has deliberated on the matter since McAndrew's suspension nine months ago, President Caldwell yesterday again insisted the discussion had not gone beyond general comment on the desired qualifications.

Declares None as Yet Chosen.

None of the 25 candidates, whose records are in the hands of the trustees, has been discussed by name, he reiterated.

It generally was conceded among board officials and city hall followers, however, that William J. Bogan, acting head of the school system, is the favored candidate. His election Wednesday, according to their views, awaits only a few political gestures on his behalf. Mr. Caldwell, they say, awaits a general statement from the mayor's advisers, probably pointing toward Bogan.

Caldwell Talks with Mayor.

Mr. Caldwell conferred with Mayor Thompson early yesterday afternoon and later was closeted for two hours with school officials, after that Mr. Caldwell said there were no new developments.

It was learned yesterday a group of school principals visited Mr. Caldwell last week to protest against Mr. Bogan's election. Another group of principals is engaged in organizing an eleventh hour boom for Daniel J. Booby, former president of the principals' club. The candidacy of Henry J. Clark, district superintendent, also has been proposed.

NEFF HUNTS FOR EXTORTIONISTS DEATH OF

Note Demanding $5
Starts Search

Notation Neff, Chicago real estate man living in New York, is cooperating with police in a search for an extortionist who demanded $5,000 from him. The body of William Wayne Neff, a junior at the University of Chicago, was found in a tree near Stonington Avenue and a two-week search apparently ended his own. The inquiry was ordered by Neff upon returning to his home at 1100 N. Dearborn, on the day after his son's death. Two letters—one demanding $5,000 for the release of the body and the second demanding $5,000 for the youth's death—were received by Neff.

Didn't Know Young
"This was obviously a trap to take advantage of me," Mr. Neff said yesterday. "The writer of the letters was obviously of my son or something to do with his murder. I was murdered last night. I was with his confederates, I was captured and punished. I was carrying anguish in through their malicious acts. The first letter bore a mark of June 17. The day the body of your son was found. It was the strongest point to Mr. Neff's belief, that of the letter had not been the youth's death. Mr. Neff pointed out that June 17 was Sunday and an afternoon papers published that the author was of the discovery of the body."

$50,000 Is Demanded
This letter said that you been approached two weeks ago and a demand for $50,000 had been made upon him. "I to 'come across' with the letter stated that the most the same fate as 'git' (Frances St. John disappeared from Smith 13 and has not been heard of since. Neff paid $50,000 for the body of your son at the corner of St. James and Boston. Neff, carrying with him a 'box' containing the remaining there for ten days directed to take a taxi and from there to deposit the 'Dedham line' diagram was enclosed. Instructions be fulfilled promised to return the body."

Second Letter
The second letter, postmarked June 18, in addition to stating that Neff had been murdered, the kidnappers had planned to kill him until July 4 but "witting." It also referred to Neff's threatening letter Neff had not heeded. Points out that the letter dated June 17 gives no indication of the date of the murder. F. L. Spalding, a partner in the F. L. Spalding & Co., investment firm, Boston, and a Harvard alumnus, is known to Neff. Neff is known to the activities of the firm for Mr. Neff.

LAWYERS FAIL TO FREE PAL OF SLAIN BANDIT

Judge Delays Hearing on Plea for Writ.

Less than three hours after Thomas had been arrested yesterday in an attempted holdup in which one of his pals was shot to death by detectives, lawyers applied to a half dozen judges for writs of habeas corpus to free him from police custody.

When the attorneys finally presented their petition for the writ before Judge Harry B. Miller in the Criminal court, the judge, at the request of the police, continued action on it until noon today and the lawyers were refused the right to see their client until 1 o'clock this morning.

Police Wait For Bandits.

The scene of the attempted holdup was the north side branch of the Chicago Red Ice Cream company, at 1234 West street. Deputy Commissioner of Detectives William E. O'Connor, in charge of the detective bureau had been tipped off it would be forthcoming. And so Sgt. Joseph Connelley and his squad were on hand when the bandit car drew up at 1234 W. St.

There were three men in the car and the detectives opened fire on them when they attempted to flee. Ralph Weisberg, 312 Cornelia avenue, an ex-convict, dropped dead riddled with rifle bullets. Bangora, a police character, was seized still sitting in the automobile. A third man made his escape. It was about 1 p. m. when the attorneys, Cyrus McDonnell and Sidney Lewis, appeared in Judge Miller's court for their writ of habeas corpus. According to O'Connor they had visited a half dozen other courts.

Delays Action on Writ.

Judge Miller notified the police that there had been a petition for a writ. He continued the hearing until noon today when O'Connor notified him he would formally book the prisoner.

When Attorneys McDonnell and Lewis appeared to visit their client and O'Connor refused them permission, one of the lawyers, in O'Connor's hearing, remarked that "Loesch of the crime commission, was right when he said a large percentage of the police were ignorant and illiterate." O'Connor with a dangerous glint in his eye, retorted that "that applies to some lawyers, too," and the lawyers beat a retreat.

SENTENCES SIX IN $100,000 CASE OF BOOZE GRAFT

United States Judge Fred L. Wham yesterday sentenced six minor figures in the bootlegging operations of the Shirley laboratories, two officials of which were convicted last week, after they had entered pleas of guilty to charges of violating the prohibition act. The government charges that 30 day agents were paid a total of almost $100,000 by the Shirley laboratories.

Those sentenced and the terms are: Edward Jones, eighteen months in federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.; G. B. Blon, sixty days in the local county jail; Albert T. Vincent and Joseph La Vior, 30 days and a fine of $100 each; Leo J. Higgins, $200; and John Brannigan, $100. Jones was granted a parole to support his aged mother.

Ray C. Swanson and Samuel J. Weisberg, officials of the concern, were found guilty last week of diverting 100,000 gallons of government alcohol for bootlegging purposes, will be sentenced Thursday. So will Benjamin Black, to whose still a quantity of alcohol was supplied.

(Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.)

TOKIO, June 25.—A picturesque career, more like a film story than a record of real life, closed here Sunday when D. E. Swinehart, American citizen, general in the Mukden army and military adviser to Chang Tso-lin, was drowned while bathing at Kakamura. Born in Colorado thirty-four years ago, Swinehart ran away from school and fought in two Central American revolutions, did some working and fighting in Panama, and then returned and worked his way through school and a South Carolina college, from where he was graduated as an engineer. He saw more fighting in Central America before he gained a lieutenantcy in the United States forces in the world war. Afterwards he participated in the revolution whereby Leguila on July 4, 1919, seized power in Peru.

He came to Manchuria and worked as an engineer until he found an opportunity to bring himself to the notice of Chang Tso-lin, who appointed him adviser and then general, and later employed him on missions to Europe and America.

Job was gone, but that he had arranged to return to Mukden to interview young Chang.

Sunday evening when he went swimming rain was falling and a storm rising. He chatted with a friend on the beach, observing that Chang had died with a roar and crash, as he had wished to.

Five minutes later he had swum out of sight. His body was washed ashore this morning.

Charged with Obstructing Probe of Vote Frauds.

months to the election commissioners' office, under the direction of County Judge Jarecki. When Mr. Loesch looked about for investigators, Judge Jarecki loaned him the three detectives and recommended them highly as competent and honest.

After conferring with his principal assistants, Prosecutors David D. Stansbury and Charles O. Rundall, Mr. Loesch learned details of the incident referred to by the commissioner, and Mr. Stansbury made them public.

Slaps Colored Preacher.

"A colored preacher, named Pickens, was named by another witness as having knowledge of kidnappings," he said. "We called him in, and although confronted by the men who were with him at the time, Pickens denied having seen anything. Miles then recalled that Pickens had been run out of the Maxwell street district, but Pickens said it was not true. "When Pickens accused Miles of lying, the latter moved to slap Pickens' face, and Pickens, dodging the blow, fell off the edge of his chair. Miles' fingers might just have touched Pickens. Certainly he didn't hurt him. "It is the height of irony that Mike Hughes, known for his brutal third degree methods, should seek to punish one of his men for a single slap, and send four others with him for having witnessed the incident and failed to report it.

Names Two; They're Indicted.

"The day after the incident Pickens was brought in again, and then he told of seeing a gang of men kidnap a colored worker, and he named and identified two of the gangsters responsible. They have since been indicted. "There is something else behind this. One of the police detectives we had, a colored man named Covington, was present during the questioning of Pickens. Mr. Brueschard had been suspicious of Covington, and so he trailed him from our office that night. Covington went directly to the house of Oscar De Priest, colored Thompson-Crowe-Galpin boss. The next day Mr. Brueschard fired Covington, and a few hours later orders came from Commissioner Hughes that all our police investigators were to be sent back to their stations. "I notified Mr. Loesch, and he called Hughes on the telephone. Hughes said the men had been assigned to the election commissioners' office, and if their duties there were finished they should be sent back to duty.

First Order Rescinded.

"Mr. Loesch protested he needed the detectives, so Hughes rescinded that order. Now we find he has again taken them away, and this time he says he won't give them back. He has used the alibi excuse I've heard of by his conduct, but it won't get him by."

Prosecutor Loesch reviewed the recent incidents which led to his charge that the police department had failed to cooperate with the investigation, and were seeking to obstruct it. He recalled that Patrolman George Hartigan, indicted for perjury by the special grand jury, is still traveling a beat, and has not been indicted as election terrorists have not been arrested, although the names of all of them were given secretly to the police, at the direction of Chief Justice William V. Bradley of the Criminal court, several days before the indictments were returned.

Hochstein Still at Liberty.

"The gross incompetence and dishonesty of police officers is one of the major causes for the present lawlessness in Chicago," Mr. Loesch said. "Harry Hochstein, a leader in the organization of Morris Eller, indicted by the special grand jury for a murderous assault, is still at liberty, although he is said to be on the pay roll of the city prosecutor."

Benny Jacobson, indicted for slugging and kidnapping, came in to give bail, and said he had been sitting peacefully at home for five days while the police were supposed to be searching for him. Sam Brecklev, a janitor at the Foster public school, also indicted, was reported on duty at the school last week, but Hughes' police-men reported to us they couldn't find him, either.

"The grand jury will be interested to know how such things can be possible, and Commissioner Hughes is elected to explain. I predict he'll be given a warm session."

Efforts to locate the police commissioner last night after Mr. Loesch's announcement that he would be cited met with failure. A special operator assigned to watch the Hughes telephone calls reported he did not answer a ring, although the call was made a short time after the commissioner completed his conversation with Mr. Loesch.

Name Higher Ups Returned.

Indictments to be returned by the special grand jury today will name one or two of the "higher-ups" in the syndicate which systematically stole elections in the 20th and 27th wards. It was reported about the Criminal court building yesterday.

While there was definite assurance that the real leaders in the frauds have not yet been reached in the special grand jury's investigation, the reports persisted that some responsible persons, "second lieutenants," as it were, are to be hit.

Half a dozen true bills have been returned by the jury and will be returned before Chief Justice Brothers today, it was learned. They are said to bring charges against persons believed responsible for organizing gangs of "fixers" who were taken about the 20th and 27th wards on primary day, voting dozens of times in the various precincts.

Most of yesterday was spent by the jury in hearing witnesses to the murder of Octavius C. Granady, colored lawyer and leader of his race, who was the Deneen candidate for ward committeeman, opposing Morris Eller, boss of the bloody 20th.

SUITS TO BLOCK EXPENDITURES BY CITY DELAYED

The suits of Miss Mertie N. Eisenau against the city, scheduled for hearing yesterday before Judge Hugo Friend, were continued until July 9.

One suit seeks to stop payments on a street repair contract to the White Paving company, because the complainant claims, "the prices are excessive." The other suit seeks to prevent the use of city funds to pay for advertising the proposed $77,000,000 bond issue which was defeated in the April election.

Attorney John G. Campbell for the White Paving company was busy in another court. Henry Berger, another defense attorney, is attending the Democratic convention.

A Notable Historic Anniversary

Bell Telephone service in Chicago has reached its fiftieth birthday.

The first Bell Central Office in the city began giving service June 26, 1878, with seventy-five telephones. The switchboard was located on the top floor of the building at 125 La Salle Street (old number), now 17 North La Salle Street. The business office was in the basement. The telephone operators were boys.

Beginning obscurely in this feeble fashion fifty years ago, the telephone has grown until today the people of Chicago make daily use of more than 914,000 telephones operated from ninety-nine central office switchboards and connected with each other by more than 4,000,000 miles of wire.

From seventy-five telephones to 900,000; from a few wires centering on a primitive roof fixture to 4,000,000 miles, creating a veritable mesh under and over the whole city—such is the history in brief of Chicago's telephone growth. But there has been no miracle about it. The man power, the mechanical and electrical equipment and the financial structure have been built, little by little and with infinite care, to meet the requirements of the public.

The Chicago Telephone Company, now the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, was organized in 1881. Absorbing the Bell Telephone Company of Illinois and unifying the service, it entered on its career of expansion, which has kept pace throughout the years with Chicago's development as a metropolitan community.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company is a part of the Bell Telephone System, a federation of telephone organizations whose business is to give telephone service—the best service possible in the present stage of development of the telephone art—and to make the service progressively better as the art advances.

The fiftieth anniversary of the telephone in Chicago is an appropriate occasion to call attention to some of the aims, ideals and policies of Bell Telephone service. These are set out clearly in a statement by Mr. Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, quoted here. The Illinois Bell Telephone Company as one of the operating companies of the Bell System, accepts its responsibility to the people of Chicago as defined in this statement.

This Golden Anniversary is also a fitting time to express to our customers, the people of Chicago, our deep appreciation of the fairness of the public toward the company and its employees throughout the years. The telephone is the most intimate and personal of all the public services. The user himself performs part of the service. Such a relationship calls for patience and kindly consideration and the telephone organization has received these in full degree from the people of Chicago.

As the telephone enters a new half century, the Illinois Bell Telephone Company and the twenty-one thousand men and women who make up its organization in Chicago bespeak the continued friendly co-operation of their customers and the public and pledge themselves to a continuance of their efforts to supply the best telephone service within human power to give.

A STATEMENT OF POLICY

"The fact that the responsibility for such a large part of the entire telephone service of the country rests solely upon this company and its associated companies imposes on the management an unusual obligation to the public to see to it that the service shall at all times be adequate, dependable and satisfactory to the user. Obviously, the only sound policy that will meet these obligations is to continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety.

"It follows that there is not only no incentive but it would be contrary to sound policy for the management to earn speculative or large profits for distribution as 'melons' or extra dividends. On the other hand, payments to stockholders limited to reasonable regular dividends with their right, as the business requires new money from time to time, to make further investments on favorable terms, are of the interest both of the telephone users and of the stockholders.

"Earnings must be sufficient to assure the best possible telephone service at all times and to assure the continued financial integrity of the business. Earnings that are less than adequate must result in telephone service that is something less than the best possible. Earnings in excess of these requirements must either be spent for the enlargement and improvement of the service furnished or the rates charged for the service must be reduced. This is fundamental in the policy of the management."

—From an address by Walter S. Gifford, President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, to the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners.

Visitors Welcome—During our Fiftieth Anniversary Week, we cordially invite our subscribers and patrons to call at any of our exchange buildings between the hours of 9:00 A. M. and 6:00 P. M., and inspect the operating room and other interesting features of the business. The locations of the different buildings containing ninety-nine operating units within the Chicago city limits, are shown on Page 2 of the current Alphabetical Telephone Directory. Those unable to attend this week will be welcome on any week day during the year between the hours named. Please ask for the Chief Operator.

Never More Beautiful Than Now

HIGH up in the Virginia Mountains, 2500 feet above the sea, lie the championship golf courses of The Homestead. Towering peaks covered with verdure surround the fairways. The greens are veritable carpets woven by nature. No where will you find finer golf courses in more beautiful settings. Two 18-hole and one 9-hole course—all sporty and interesting—lend a variety charming to the most ardent golfer. Here will be held the Labor Day Tournament for Fairacre Challenge Cup commencing Sept. 1st, the Women's National Tournament commencing Sept. 24th, and the Annual Fall Tournament commencing Oct. 1st.

The famous Homestead is situated in the midst of a vast acreage—so great that one can ride for hours over its private bridge paths. Seven clay tennis courts (on which will be held the Annual Fall Tournament commencing Oct. 1st), a swimming pool, spacious dance floors and a theatre within the hotel, provide a wide variety of entertainment.

The average summer temperature at Hot Springs varies from 55 to 80 degrees. The nights are cool. The days are springlike and balmy. And there are no mosquitoes.

Let us send you literature describing this famous spa in detail, including our excellent thermal establishment for hydro-therapeutic treatment and scientific baths.

How to get there: Through Pullman cars to Covington, Va., leave Chicago at 1:00 p.m. (Central Time) over the Big Four Route, arriving at Covington over Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. at 9:02 a.m. and Hot Springs at 11:05 a.m.

With flying colors

The NATIONAL JACKETED BOILER passes all tests

The eye test of attractiveness—the comfort test of use—the tests of dependability—the National Jacketed Boiler passes them all, with flying colors.

In this National Boiler, attractiveness and utility are splendidly blended. The empire green jacket and glossy black trimmings have snap and dash—and still they defy dirt and slow to show the marks of time.

The deep fire pot makes for economy of fuel and attention. The heavy rock wool insulation cuts heat losses. The general design assures that a maximum of fuel heat will be translated into healthful home comfort.

OUTSTANDING POINTS

Attractive—Durable, empire green enamel finish, black trim.

Insulated—A thick layer of rock wool between jacket and boiler.

Efficient—Double set of three fire ways provides a long forward and back fire travel.

Convenient—Exceptionally deep fire box; requires infrequent attention.

Dependable—Its heating qualities have been demonstrated on many varied installations.

Time-Saving—Large doors make firing and cleaning easy.

Adaptable—Burns hard or soft coal, coke, oil, or gas.

Versatile—For use on steam, hot water, or vapor warming systems.

Note the exceptionally deep large capacity fire pot. You can fire it up and forget it for hours.

Your heating equipment deserves to be well installed. Get a reliable Heating Contractor to do your work. He will obtain and install the National Jacketed Boiler, also Aero, the National Radiator, for you.

STEWART ASK SPEEDY TRIAL PERJURY CHA

Indicted for Testim Teapot Hearing

(Chicago Tribune From Washington, D. C., June 26.)—Robert W. Stewart, of the Standard Oil company, recently acquitted of perjury in a case prepared to appear tomorrow to demand immediate him by the district jury today.

The indictment, practical as a senate resolution, charged that Stewart had testified before the Teapot Dome scandal in February. In his testimony he had participated in the $2,500,000 payoff to the Continental Trading and Transportation company, and refused to tell the jury what he knew of the deal.

STEWART ASKS SPEEDY TRIAL OF PERJURY CHARGEIndicted for Testimony in Teapot Hearing.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., June 25.—(Special.)—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, recently acquitted of contempt of court, arrived in Washington today prepared to appear in court tomorrow to demand immediate trial of the perjury indictment returned against him by the district grand jury.

The indictment, practically directed by a Senate resolution, charges Stewart with having testified falsely to the Teapot Dome scandal committee last February. In his testimony he admitted having participated in the distribution of the $2,000,000 profit realized by the Continental Trading company, and refused to tell the investigators what he knew of the Continental deal.

Amis Receiving Share.
The refusal to testify caused Stewart's indictment for contempt. Subsequently, he again appeared before the Teapot committee and admitted having received $750,000 in Liberty bonds out of the Continental transaction. The Senate then ordered the arrest of the two parties sent to the Senate attorney as the basis for perjury proceedings.

Evicted of perjury, Stewart faces a maximum penalty of five years in the penitentiary in addition to a $10,000 fine.

Stewart and Frank J. Hogan, his attorney in the contempt trial, demand the perjury charge as "another stroke of political persecution." They declared they would waive all preliminary and formalities in order to secure immediate trial.

New Campaign Angle.
"Of course I greatly regret the making of this charge," Col. Stewart said as he boarded a Washington train in New York this afternoon. "It is deeply inspired by the political investigations of the Senate committee. I have no long been of the opinion that in a presidential campaign year political rights and personal reputations are of no moment."

"I am sure the public will understand that this indictment was returned as a result of a star chamber proceeding where I was not heard, either personally or by counsel. Only those who wanted this indictment were used by the grand jury. Not one word of evidence was received on my side of this matter. I shall instruct my counsel to seek the earliest possible disposition of this case. I am confident of acquittal."

Col. Abuse of Law.
The perjury indictment represents, according to Mr. Hogan, "the last vest of the outrageous abuse of court process for political purposes," and "a vindictive attempt" to overturn Stewart's acquittal on the contempt charge. The indictment "was not preceded with any idea that there was a successful prosecution under."

Mr. Hogan continued.
He added that Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.), while admitting that it would be impossible to convict Stewart of perjury, demanded that "some humiliation" be inflicted on him.

In his first appearance before the Senate committee, Col. Stewart was explicit that he "personally did not receive any of these bonds or make a share out of them."

Later when he admitted having "handled" $750,000 of the Liberty bonds bought by the Continental company, he disclosed that the bonds had been placed in a trust as they were received in varying installments. They were held intact until it was decided that they rightfully belonged to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, owned jointly by the Standard of Indiana and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company, he said.

History of Deal.

The Continental company was organized to purchase 23,223,223 barrels of crude oil at $1.50 from a Texas producer. Its ability to finance the deal was guaranteed by Stewart and Harry F. Sinclair, the leading figure in the Teapot Dome scandal. The oil was resold by the Continental company to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, and the Prairie Oil and Gas company at $1.75 a barrel.

Sinclair, it has been disclosed, paid $233,000 of his share of the profits of the deal to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and advanced another $250,000 to help Will H. Hays wipe out the Republican national committee's 1920 campaign deficit.

Neither Col. Stewart nor his attorney would discuss yesterday's report that John D. Rockefeller Jr. is still determined to oust Stewart from the Standard Oil company nor could it be learned whether Stewart conferred with Rockefeller while in New York.

new look in all your lovely things—

So now every great movie studio, every musical show in New York, uses Lux—to get DOUBLE WEAR!

Experts Use Lux

And additional groups of experts—recognized as final authorities on fabrics—confirm these wonderful results!

Department store buyers—92 out of every 100 women buyers interviewed in 112 leading stores—insist on Lux for their own precious things.

Exclusive Dressmakers—In New York's famous FASHION establishments, where the beautiful women of society buy wonderful clothes—ONLY LUX is used for cleansing delicate lingerie and stockings worn by mannequins. Lux keeps sheer things fresh—like new—so much longer!

Dollars and Cents Test

The great MOTION PICTURE STUDIOS of Hollywood, the glittering New York MUSICAL SHOWS, tried out different soaps for cleansing modern fabrics and clothes.

And discovered that, when cleansed safely in LUX, costumes and stockings stay like new more than twice as long!

LIVING MODELS
DISPLAY GORGEOUS GOWNS!

The above picture gives a glimpse "behind the scenes" in the fashionable salon of Frances Clyne, exclusive dressmaker.

In New York's great establishments of dress, the lovely underthings and hosiery worn by the models must always look new!

Only Lux will keep them beautifully fresh and lovely, say New York's most famous dressmakers—Hickson, Hattie Carnegie, Tappé, Kurzman, Bergdorf-Goodman, Stein and Blaine, Milgrim, Jay-Thorpé, Frances Clyne, Bruck-Weiss.

Women everywhere use Lux! In 8 out of 10 representative homes in cities from coast to coast, investigations show, Lux is used. To keep modern clothes like new so much longer!

DEPARTMENT STORE BUYERS
SELECT SMART CLOTHES:

Three buyers in the New York showroom of Jesse Wolf and Co., buying summer frocks, for their stores. These women buyers are sent frequently to Paris and New York to purchase fashion apparel. They are experts in clothes!

Now, for the first time, the buyers in 112 leading stores in cities from Boston to Los Angeles, have told their own secrets of clothes care. For their own precious things, 92 out of every 100 interviewed insist on safe Lux cleansing.

LUX IS SO PURE that the famous New York Maternity Center uses Lux in cleansing all baby things, so that there can be no risk of irritating the baby's tender skin.

This gives vivid proof of the purity of Lux and the great care with which it is made. For organizations such as the Maternity Center have submitted Lux to most rigid analysis and tests before choosing it officially. No wonder Lux never harms delicate colors or fine fabrics.

DIXON UNITES IN MOVE TO BUILD WIDER HIGHWAYS

Chicago Radial Plans Outlined at Civic Meeting.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

June 25.—(Special.)—At the city of a once promising industrial area of the Rock river valley, Grand detriment, which virtually was left destroyed and ruined by the change of the river to the south, citizens of Dixon have discussed the necessity for the widening of the Lincoln highway from

Dixon through Dixon to the Mississippi river.

In the atmosphere of the vanished mansions of the pious of the agricultural implement industry, and in the midst of the natural beauties of the place, which was selected by the early explorers as the logical location for the Urban center of this region, it was pointed out that Dixon and the other cities of the Lincoln highway stand to lose their present prestige if an effort is not made to widen the existing state roads sufficiently to meet the demand of the present traffic.

Support Chicago Plan.

Bankers, manufacturers, lawyers, judges, mechanics, farmers, and civic organization officials gathered at the ancient tavern in Grand Detour to go on record as standing solidly behind the plan put forward by the Chicago Motor club for the widening of the seven radial arteries to a width of forty feet for a distance of at least 100 miles out of Chicago.

Resolutions were adopted favoring the improvement, which are to be forwarded to both candidates for government, Justice Floyd E. Thompson, and L. E. Emmerson. It was decided that within a few weeks a mass meeting of representatives of all the cities between Chicago and the Mississippi river, including Rochelle, Franklin Grove, DeKalb, Sterling, Morrison, and Fulton, should be held to record the sentiment of the population served by the cross state thoroughfares.

Hayes Outlines Program.

An outline of the state program for highway widening was given by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club. He said:

"By the end of the summer, most of the Cook county connections on these seven radial roads will have been completed. On Roosevelt road, now only forty feet wide, has been laid for a considerable portion in Cook county. The remainder is under construction and will be completed within the next few months. This will bring traffic to a bottle neck at the county line.

"We must push that bottle neck into the Mississippi river. It used to be that motorists traveling over this road complained of congestion only as far west as Geneva; today congestion on Sunday's and holidays extends all the way to Dixon and even beyond Dixon.

Dixon Is Resort Town.

"Dixon is a manufacturing town, but there is no reason why it should not be a great resort town. Lowell park, the Pines, Grand Detour, Assembly park, the Rock river and its majestic bluffs—what more could one ask for in a resort place? The creator has spread his gifts here with a lavish hand. It is up to you to make the most of them. Up to ten years ago only a favored few knew of the beauty of Rock river valley.

"Then came the hard road; the beauties of this section became more widely known, but as the years have passed, the number of automobiles has increased enormously and we shall be back at starting point of a decade ago, unless we relieve the present congestion. Iowa, with its big road program, will fill this highway to its capacity with Iowa traffic alone, within a few years. Within late years thousands of Chicagoans have declined to use their cars because of congestion.

40 Foot Road Adequate.

"Now, if you are to attract the motorists to this section, you must relieve congestion by building adequate roads. A twenty foot road on a main artery is not an adequate road. A forty foot road will carry the traffic in comfort.

"The automobile registrations in certain sections of the country have grown so fast for the road builders. Illinois, for example, has a splendid system of hard roads, and yet in the metropolitan area, these hard roads are obsolete because they are congested.

"We must start our campaign not for hard roads this time, but for wider roads.

"The high cost of congestion constitutes one of the most pronounced wastes in American life today and you and I pay our congestion tax every year whether we know it or not. It costs us a billion dollars annually.
In Chicago it has been shown that a ten per cent reduction in traffic delay would save twenty-seven million dollars a year.

"The message I carry to you today is: Let the people know what congestion is costing them."

COUSINS FIGHT CHARITY GIFTS OF G. A. HAMILTON

The bulk of the $200,000 estate of George Alexander Hamilton, member of an old Chicago family, who died on April 11 at the age of 69, is bequeathed to charity.

His will was admitted to probate yesterday by Edward S. Schaeffer, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner, over the protests of Attorney A.
W. Main, representing some cousins who were ignored in the will. He gave notice of appeal.

Outside of a few small bequests to relatives, the will leaves all of the fortune to be shared equally by the Chicago Orphan asylum, Chicago
Foundlings' home, Home for Destitute and Crippled Children, Home for Incurables, Salvation Army, Scottish Old People's home, and the Deaconess and Women's home of the Norwegian and Danish conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

MRS. RODRIGUEZ, SUING HUSBAND, BLAMES POLITICS

Tells of Aiding Former Candidate for Mayor.

Mrs. Sophia Rodriguez of 909 Argyle avenue, known as a radical lecturer, took the witness stand yesterday before Superior Judge Robert Gentzel in her separate maintenance suit against William E. Rodriguez, well known lawyer, former alderman, and in 1911 a candidate for mayor of Chicago on the Socialist ticket.

"In July of 1911," she testified, in response to questions by Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, "we were married and, because he was without work, attending a law school, we lived with my relatives on the west side.

Solicited 25,000 for Votes.

"I was a kind and faithful wife. I tutored candidates for citizenship and took the platform before labor organizations in Indiana and Illinois for amnesty toward political prisoners and for the Russian famine relief fund. In his aldermanic campaign I solicited votes from 6 o'clock in the morning until late at night, visiting all of the 25,000 homes in the old 15th ward. "We were happy, of the same political convictions, until the spring of 1920. Then we took different political views. On Sept. 4, 1920, he telephoned me asking me to pack his clothes. I thought he was going on a trip. I ironed his shirts and mended his underwear and packed a suitcase for him. He came home, kissed me goodbye, and never came back."

Both Charge Desertion.

Mrs. Rodriguez, who is 47 years old, is asking for separate maintenance on a charge of desertion.

Her husband, who charges her with desertion, will testify today in support of his cross bill for divorce. Attorney Matilda Fenberg, his counsel, in an opening statement to the jury, said she expected to prove that Mr. Rodriguez was driven to leaving the home where he lived with his wife with her relatives.

PARENTS SEEK TO SAVE 3 KILLERS FROM THE CHAIR

Youths Plead Guilty in Murder Case.

Three youthful slayers sat in Judge Emanuel Eiler's Criminal court yesterday while their parents told the judge that before "this deed was committed" they had been good boys. The parents were trying to save the youths from the electric chair, the punishment which is being demanded by Assistant State's Attorneys Harold Levy and Emmet Byrne. The youths had entered pleas of guilty and thrown themselves on the mercy of the court. Paul Gressman, 22, of 3337 South Hoyne avenue; Roger Bonny, 18, of 2535 Hamilton avenue, and Henry Raczynski of the same address are the defendants. They shot and killed little 7 year old Arthur C. Nelson Jr. and wounded the father when cornered while they were robbing the Nelson home, 7347 Vernon avenue, on April 15.

Crippled Father Is Witness.

The elder Nelson, crippled for life, was the principal state witness. He told of returning home with his family and finding the burglars just leaving the premises.

As he attempted to stop the boys, Bonny turned and fired three or four shots, Nelson said, and two of them struck him and the others his "baby." He did not know for weeks that his son had been murdered, he said. Kenneth Nelson, a 14 year old son, wept as he corroborated the testimony of his father.

Attorney Edward R. Litsinger, member of the board of review, then started to present a defense for young Gressman. He called neighborhood acquaintances and business people from the territory of Bridgeport to tell of the previous good character of the defendant. Litsinger formerly lived in that locality.

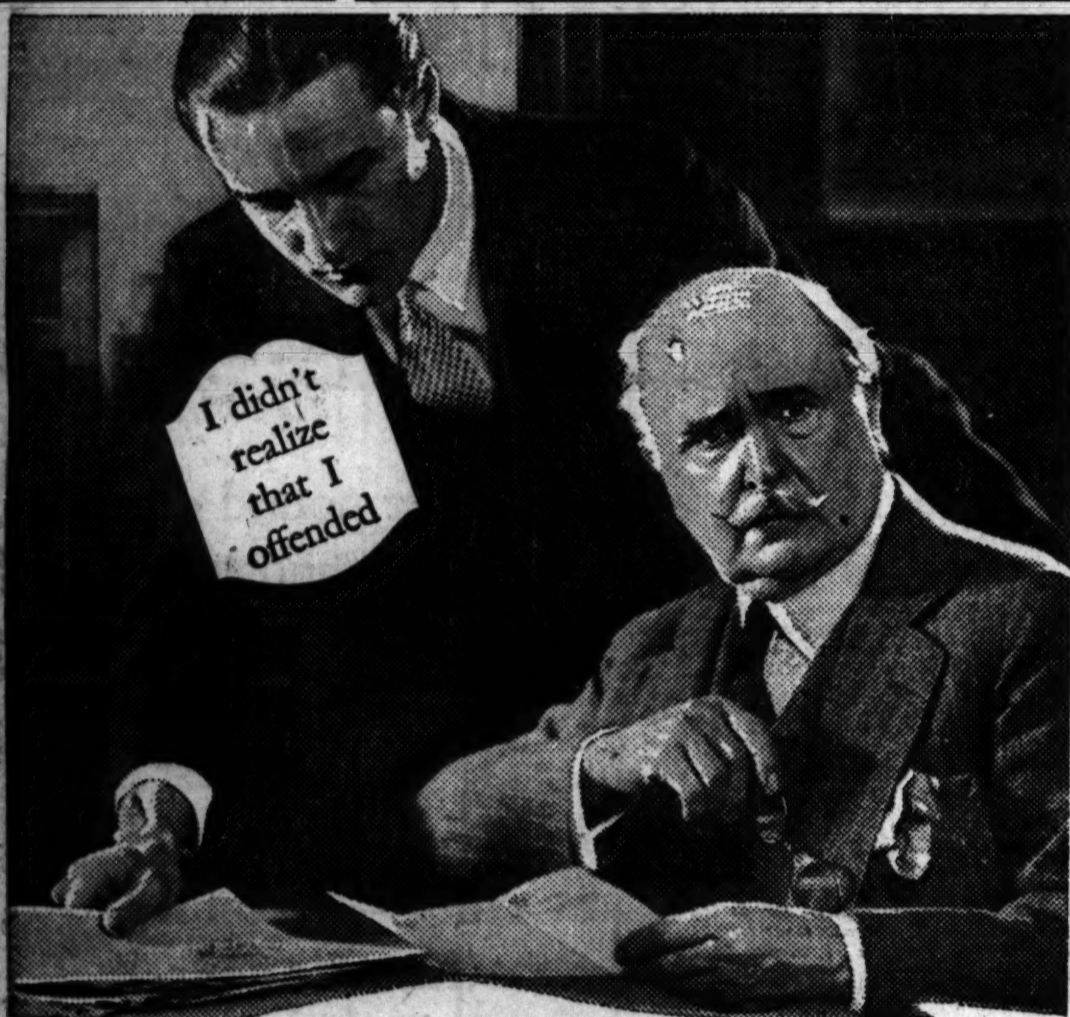

Father Sobs on Stand.

Frank Gressman, the father of eight children, a blacksmith, was finally called. He shook with sobs as he told of "raising that boy to be good." But "that boy" looked unconcerned around the crowded courtroom while the father struggled to gain control of himself. A few minutes later he himself took the stand and without a tear told the details of the crime.

How body odor almost ruined my career

"I WAS selling on the road when the good news came. An inside job—opportunity—direct contact every day with the big boss.

"Everything went fine on my first day—until the chief called me into his office. He smiled a cordial welcome and asked for some figures. But when I leaned over his desk to show them to him he suddenly drew back. Without saying another word, he briefly dismissed me.

"Several days went by. Nothing new from the chief. It was rumored I was going on the road again. I couldn't understand.

I learned the truth

"Misery worried I told my sister the whole story. And then came the shock that was to save me from business disaster.

"Ed, I know what the whole trouble is. I noticed it at the dance the other night. It may hurt you—but I am going to tell you to your face what I am sure others are saying behind your back."

"And then she told me the real truth... body odor!"

No one is safe from body odor

Body odor is treacherous—it hurts us without our knowing it. Sets us back socially and in business in a humiliating way. And we cannot tell when we offend—because our own sense of smell becomes deadened to a familiar odor.

It's natural to perspire. It's healthful. Even in cool weather we perspire about a quart of odor-causing waste a day, doctors say. In addition, extreme heat, emotion or nervousness may cause excessive perspiration. Thus any one of us may be guilty unless we take care.

Purifying the pores

For all-day freshness—for bath-to-bath safety and confidence—use Lifebuoy Health Soap. You'll revel in its gloriously abundant lather. This pleasant antiseptic lather deeply deodorizes the pores. It prevents body odor not by neutralizing the odor—not by substituting another for it—but by purifying the pores.

Healthier complexions, too

This same bland, antiseptic Lifebuoy lather also purifies face pores—keeping complexions smooth, clear and glowingly fresh. Guards health, too—by removing germs.

You'll learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you it purifies, and which vanishes as you rinse. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

TAYLOR, OLYMPIC HURDLE CHAMP, SEEKS '28 HONOR

Enters 400 Meter Event at Philadelphia.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Frank Loomis, the 1924 Olympic hurdle champion, will try to win a place on this year's American team which will compete in the world's games at Philadelphia next month.

The tri-color athlete, who became famous while competing on the Grinnell college team of Iowa, will meet with keen competition in the final tests at Philadelphia on July 3 and 4. Taylor will compete in his specialty at Detroit on Friday and Saturday when trials for non-college performers in Iowa, Missouri and Illinois will be held.

Three athletes already have shattered the accepted world record for the event and also the Olympic mark. Frank Loomis of the Los Angeles team, who won the event in 1924, stands as the record. In 1925, H. Peterson of Sweden hung up a world's record of 23.8 in Paris.

Cubel Breaks Record. In a sectional Olympic trial last Saturday at Iowa City, Frank Cubel, captain of the University of Iowa track team, won the event in 23.6, which bettered both the world's and Olympic records. The event is adapted to the Hawkeye leader who is a natural quarter miler and hurdler.

The hurdle in the 400 meter race is three feet high. The height of ordinary high barrier is 3 feet 6 inches and the low 3 feet 2 inches.

When the Olympic trials were held in Southern California a short time ago, Clyde Blanchard of the Los Angeles A. C. won the 400 meter hurdle test in 23.8-10, the same time as Cubel. In his training for the event, Blanchard had run the distance in faster time and is almost certain to be one of the four selected for the race.

Johnny Gibson of Bloomfield, N. J., was competing in the Olympic trials held in New York June 16, took the 400 meter hurdle event in 23.8-4, faster time than the accepted world's and Olympic records. Gibson is the holder of the American 440 yard hurdle record. In the National A. A. U. outdoor championships at Lincoln, Neb., last summer, the eastern athlete hung up a new mark of 23.8-4.

Taylor Holds American Record. Alex G. Graham and Richard Penney of the Los Angeles A. C., won the event in 23.8-4, faster time than the accepted world's and Olympic records. Gibson is the holder of the American 440 yard hurdle record. In the National A. A. U. outdoor championships at Lincoln, Neb., last summer, the eastern athlete hung up a new mark of 23.8-4.

Olympic Winners

Previous winners in the 400 meter hurdle at the Olympic games follow:
1900—J. W. R. Tewksbury, United States.
1904—M. J. Hillman, United States.
1908—C. J. Bacon, United States.
1912—Frank Loomis, United States.
1920—F. M. Taylor, United States.

Rain Fails to Halt Women's Park Tourney

Despite weather conditions that would halt almost any class of players, women golfers defied the elements yesterday and played the qualifying round in the annual city public parks championship at Marquette.

A heavy rain caused several hours delay and as a result "Gus" Krause, grounds superintendent declared the temporary greens in use. This brought high scoring, but Mrs. Flo Fitzgibbon of Jackson park and Mrs. Peggy Horn of the home club turned in a pair of 89's.

First round matches will be decided today with the pairings as follows:
CHAMPIONSHIP.
Mrs. J. S. Fitzgibbon, Jackson, vs. Mrs. C. Fitzgerald, Marquette.
Mrs. R. Gibson, Jackson, vs. Mrs. E. L. Bowers, Wilmette.
Mrs. L. Marshall, Marquette, vs. Mrs. C. Long, unaffiliated.
Mrs. D. Marshall, Marquette, vs. Mrs. C. Plack, Jackson.
Mrs. M. King, Marquette, vs. Mrs. J. McElroy, Jackson.
Mrs. G. Saunders, Marquette, vs. Mrs. P. Walters, Jackson.
Mrs. Grace Laferriere, Marquette, vs. Mrs. J. Kravitz, Edgemoor.
Mrs. R. Marshall, Marquette, vs. Mrs. E. Evans, Edgemoor.
Mrs. J. Schick, Marquette, vs. Mrs. C. Bonner, Jackson.
Mrs. F. Jacobs, Jackson, vs. Mrs. E. W. Bunker, Jackson.
Mrs. L. M. Zach, Edgemoor, vs. Mrs. Mae Hill, Jackson.
Mrs. Ruth Brown, Lincoln, vs. Mrs. F. Dyer, Edgemoor.
Mrs. G. Connell, Lincoln, vs. Mrs. F. Finkert, Jackson.
Mrs. Thomas Durr, Edgemoor, (bye).

The Women's Western Golf association's three day medal play championship opens at Hinsdale today with Mrs. Lee Mida defending her title.

The championship is over 64 holes, one round each day for three days. Among the most serious threats to the championship are Mrs. Melvin Jones of Olympia Fields and Miss Elizabeth Curtis of Clinton, Ia., champion of Iowa and entrant in the British women's title meet this year.

VARSITY GAMES FIRST ON N. U. TWIN GRID CARDS

Northwestern university reserve football games will be played after the regular varsity games on the two Saturdays next fall for which double-headers have been scheduled, it was indicated yesterday. The Loyola-Furman second team game on Oct. 6 will follow the Northwestern varsity meeting with Butler, as will the Notre Dame and Northwestern second teams' game on Oct. 20 follow the varsity meeting with Kentucky. The kickoff in the first game probably will be earlier than heretofore.

Church League to Hold Track Games Saturday

The eighth annual championship track and field games of the Church Athletic Association of Chicago will be held Saturday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock at the Lake Shore playground. About 600 entries from 40 churches in Chicago and suburbs have been received. There will be 50 events open to men and women and boys and girls.

BEVERLY GOLFER WINS IN HOTEL MEN'S TOURNEY

Wauwasee, Ind., June 25.—Leonard Hicks of Beverly stepped forth on his own golf course, the Wauwasee Country club, today to win first place in a tournament of Chicago hotel men who had left Chicago in special cars in the morning. Hicks shot 77 with a handicap of 3 for even par net.

Beverly scored again in class A when H. O. Moir, 90-14-78, placed second, while W. B. Johnson, 90-10-80, and Theodore Williams, Olympia Fields, 96-14-80, tied for third.

In class B, George Allen, 89-35-74, was first; F. J. Kline, University Country club, 96-30-78, second, and C. E. Chambers, Olympia Fields, 98-21-77, third. Col. C. G. Holden, manager of Olympia Fields, and taking a rest from the strenuous week of the National Open, topped class C with 103-30-73, and second, and J. K. Willy, 133-30-105, third.

HANDSOMEST TRUCK IN AMERICA

hauls 2 tons fast!

There's a real order—if cost sheets mean anything to you! Diamond T has developed a truck especially to haul 2 tons fast—and economically.

Large fleet owners who keep accurate cost records declare this Diamond T Model 302 earns back its cost price by hauling more goods every day.

Diamond T deliberately designed Model 302 to haul more goods every day—designed it with all the skill that comes from 18 years of fine truck building. This popular Diamond T has a husky 6-cylinder, 60-horsepower, 7-bearing motor—power plant vibrationless and long lived, with a vast reserve of power that no load or speed within reason will ever overburden.

Model 302 has Lockheed hydraulic 4-wheel brakes, to safely control great weight at high speeds, and to cut costly brake maintenance.

That's why this great 2-ton truck, created by Diamond T for today's traffic, can tackle any hauling job, on crowded streets or open highway—and do it better.

Packers, bottlers, commission merchants, wholesalers, truck gardeners, farmers, and dozens of others, have found Model 302, particularly in the popular express body illustrated above, the swiftest, thriftest truck for their purposes. And being a Diamond T, it's "the handsomest truck in America"—which pays!

Diamond T Service is efficient, courteous, and available wherever these fine trucks are sold. Ask any Diamond T owner.

When questions were put to Coach Brown as to the cause of Harvard's indifferent rowing exhibition that resulted in a defeat by ten lengths, the Harvard leader said:

"Yale was good enough Friday to beat Harvard by ten lengths, and we aren't going to talk about that race and if we didn't think we could row better in the Olympic tryouts than we did on the Thames you can bet we wouldn't enter."

"What shall will you use in the Olympic tryouts?" Brown was asked.

"The same one that we have used for all our races this year," he replied.

racers turned out to see the card decided. Old Jim Owensby of Chicago hadn't been getting many good breaks before this muddy program was run off. He had been trying with all the horses in his small stable, but something always seemed to happen to old Jim. His horses could do everything but win. Old Jim trotted out Far Away, a son of Midway, which was still a maiden before the fourth race was run. Despite his known mind running ability, the racers were just about as the program and saw that he was one of hard luck Jim's horses and passed him up.

As a result the price against Far Away gradually went up. Old Jim told his friends he couldn't lose, but he had told them the same thing about others in his barn. It was just another case of yelling "Wolf, Wolf," too many times.

After letting Mandala make the pace to the head of the stretch, Far Away, ridden by R. Doggett, staged a rally and made old Jim, who had wandered out on to the clubhouse lawn, jump up and down and yell, "Come on, Far Away."

Son of Midway Reminds. Perhaps the son of Midway heard these desperate calls from Jim. He came on and came so fast that he was the winner by two lengths. Mandala, a 13 to 1 shot in the betting, hung on long enough to save second money. The favorite, Sweet Money, got up in time to grab third place.

Old Jim Owensby and a few of his friends made a wild dash for the cash. No little confidence had been placed in Far Away that he paid $14.13 in the $2 mutuel market.

Factor, smoother... different from any you've ever known before. Soaks whiskers soft in a scientific way

If you're entirely satisfied with your present shaving method... if you're never troubled with razor-pull, sting or smart... if you're always ready right now.

But if your mind is open... if you're anxious to have a quicker, smoother shave... and willing to change your present shaving method to get it... it will pay you to read this advertisement from start to finish.

It's the story of a new way... an easy way... a quick and scientific way to get your whiskers soft. There's really no mystery to it. We've simply made a vastly better shaving cream... and men are adding to it by the thousands.

It's a big shaving improvement you'll agree the minute you try it. No other shaving cream can offer you the same unique results. That's because Colgate lather is designed to absorb more water... to scientifically drench your beard with moisture, right at the base, where the razor work is done.

It is, we believe, the ultimate attainment in the science of beard-softening. A shaving cream based on the new shaving principle that water, and not soap, is the real softener of your beard. It's a small-bubble lather.

For small bubbles hold more water. They carry it closer to the base of your beard. The minute you brush Colgate's on your face, two things happen: First, the soap in the lather breaks up the oil film that covers each hair.

floats it quickly away. Then billions of tiny, moisture-laden bubbles seep down through your beard... crowd around each whisker... soak it soft with water at the base. Instantly your beard gets moist and pliable... limp and clean. Whiskers come off quick and easy... without razor-pull, sting or smart. You've never had a shave like this before. You've never known such comfort.

Just step up to any drug store counter and ask for Colgate's. Compare it with ordinary shave cream, and you'll agree it's the fastest, smoothest, cleanest shaving cream ever created.

FAVORITES FALL AS CIRCUIT MEET OPENS AT TOLEDO

Col. Strong Wins Race in Straight Heats.

Toledo, O., June 25.—(AP)—Favorites were raced into defeat in the opening program of the Grand Circuit at Fort Miami park this afternoon, and in one event three of the great colts of 1927 were beaten badly, with one hopelessly distanced in the first heat.

A large crowd braved threatening skies and a chill breeze to see the inaugural.

Colonel Strong, whose daddy, Colonel Armstrong, was a Grand Circuit star before him, faced a straight heat victory in the race three year old paces. C. Valentine brought the second choice gelding home with plenty to spare in each of the heats, winning the opener in 2:05.4.

The favored Belvoir was distanced and Red Flute, champion two year old in 1927, was eighth. Air Gun, which won 10 consecutive races on western tracks last year, was third in his Grand Circuit debut.

Thales Direct, with E. Edman Teaming, won the open pace in straight heats.

The feature of the program, the 223 trot, went to Hollywood Colia, which won the first two heats and finished second to Peter Horton, the longest shot of the day, in the third. Royal Guy, home bred gelding, was the favorite.

Field horses finished first and third in the 224 trot. Summary:

Top hogs established a new high mark for the year at $11.15, while the largest proportion of packing cows of the season for Monday forced the general average down to $10.40, showing the widest "spread" of the season. These two prices were only $50 apart a week ago, but were 70¢ apart a year ago and $1.00 apart two years ago. Larger houses bought packing grades freely at 10¢ decline in mid-session, with many 275 to 350 lb cows included in the 15,000 left at the close. A moderate Monday run in better grades and with inbetween and lower priced steers more plentiful, top prices are expected to pass the $15.00 line this week. Some river markets are reporting $15.00 steers now. Choice 1,348 to averages yesterday stopped at $14.90 and 722 lb yearlings $14.75. Little change was noted in butcher stock. Calves held firm.

Lambs Held Steady.
Lambs held steady on small Monday receipts with stock from Idaho, W. Virginia, and Oregon making the $11.15 line. A few from Idaho reached $11.15. Most natives cleared at $11.75 to $12.25, the best stopping at $14.50 and culled mostly at $11.50 to $12.25. Aged and yearling sheep weakened slightly again, yearling ewes at $4.00 to $4.50 showing 10¢ decline.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 7,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep, against 8,271 cattle, 21,184 hogs, and 18,621 sheep the previous Tuesday, and 4,770 cattle, 21,793 hogs, and 7,222 sheep a year ago.

Yesterday's Hog Purchases.

A Real Future for Experienced Salesmen

There are few fields which have as unlimited possibilities for real salesmen as the investment business. In our organization there is an opportunity for salesmen experienced in other lines of activity as well as men just graduating from college to get a thorough training in this business. Attractive positions in our sales organization will be filled by men from our training school. Our next training school will start July 1.

If you are seriously interested in the bond business as a permanent occupation, call or write us for an appointment.

COTTON LOSES 'BULGE'

Prospects of clearing weather in the west coupled with announcement that Tuesday will be the first delivery day for July deliveries, yesterday brought enough selling by holders who were taking profits, as well as those who were going short to check the upward tendency and turn prices down. Early strength was on higher cables and heavy rains in the middle belt. Liverpool closed at net gains of 20 to 23 points, with spot sales of 5,000 bales.

There were several sales east of the Mississippi, with heavy downpour in Alabama. West Texas has had good rains the last week and average there has increased. Exports last week were 75,559 bales, against 72,787 bales last year, August 1 to June 23 they aggregate 7,384,559 bales, against 7,277,933 bales last year.

All the close issues on futures in Chicago were 20 to 23 points and in other markets 11 to 23 points. Spots lost 50 points in New York at 25.00, with New Orleans off 15 points to 21.00. Houston, 21.00; Galveston, 21.00. Prices follow:

FINANCIAL NOTES

Paine, Webber & Co. will offer today $2,000,000 15 year sinking fund 7 per cent debentures of the James River Bridge corporation, due June 1, 1943. They are priced at 100 and interest, to yield 7 per cent. The James River Bridge corporation will own and operate three highway toll bridges, including the only direct highway connection between Newport News and the Norfolk and Portsmouth districts, Virginia. One bridge, approximately 4 1/2 miles long, crosses the James river, and the two smaller bridges cross the Chickahominy and Nanamond rivers.

A new issue of $1,500,000 Missouri Power and Light company first mortgage bonds, series B, 4 1/2 per cent, dated May 1, 1928, and due May 1, 1938, is being offered by J. H. Rollins & Sons, Federal Securities corporation, 11 E. Wacker Drive, and Hamilton & Co. These bonds are priced at 97 1/2 and secured interest, to yield 5 per cent.

Except for a further break of 10 points in Japanese yen to 40.20 cents, there were no changes of consequence in the foreign exchange market yesterday.

The French franc stabilization program, announced over the weekend, had no effect on the local rate, which held around 5.33 cents. Shelling cables were quoted around $4.87 1/2.

P. J. Lissner & Co. have purchased $2,000,000 twenty year 7 per cent sinking fund gold bonds of 1928 of the Bank of Colombia, which will probably be offered in a day or two.

Self Treatment Won't Cure "Social" Diseases

It only makes them worse!

BECAUSE of limited funds, lack of time, needless fear of pain or other reasons, many victims of "Social" Diseases make the serious mistake of trying to treat and cure themselves.

While other diseases sometimes are cured by self treatment, "Social" Diseases are not. Such treatment may seem to benefit these infections, but it permits them to spread throughout the system, where they lurk for months and even years before their destructive results appear.

Insanity, blindness, paralysis, heart disease and crippling rheumatism are only a few of the fearful consequences of improperly treated "Social" Diseases. Thus you can see how disastrous it is to attempt to cure them yourself.

Equally as dangerous is the practice of stopping medical treatment as soon as the early symptoms of a "Social" Disease have disappeared. To do so is to encourage the development of afflictions like those above... afflictions that are difficult if not impossible to cure.

The only way to cure a "Social" Disease is to consult a reliable physician immediately and follow his instructions until pronounced cured. The attending physician alone should decide when treatment may be stopped.

Therefore, if you know or suspect that you have a "Social" Disease, do not resort to self treatment.

Go at once to your family physician, or come to the Public Health Institute. Only competent registered physicians are qualified to treat these stubborn and dangerous infections.

The services of the Public Health Institute's 32 physicians, all registered in the State of Illinois, are available from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily, except Sunday. Treatment is administered in privacy and comfort, at fees that everyone can afford. In fact, it costs less to be treated at the Institute than it does to try to cure yourself.

Women and Children

A special department exclusively for women and children, with men and women physicians in attendance, is located at 72 E. Randolph St. Every facility is provided here for effective treatment, and the utmost privacy with the highest degree of comfort is assured.

Thousands upon thousands of Chicagoans are attempting unsuccessfully to cure themselves, or have stopped medical treatment at too early a stage. If YOU happen to be one of them, don't let another day pass without putting yourself in good hands. It is folly to let a "Social" Disease wreck your life when reliable treatment can be had so privately, conveniently and economically.

Marry for a Home?

Why Not, Says Doris,

if You Make It Happy

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Should a girl marry a man who can give her a good home, without being really in love with him? That is, if he is not a rich man, but one with a reasonable salary? Of course, she should not dislike the man, but she merely likes him, should she marry him feeling that he can support her?"

"Or, is a girl wise to give up an offer of marriage as above and wait for love? And does love eventually come to all, or can you waste away your best years waiting for it without its ever putting in an appearance? I guess I'm not the only one trying to find enlightenment on this question."

"Frances M., I imagine a great many women have done that very thing and worked their lives out very well, indeed. I've had women tell me that when they married they were not so madly in love with their husbands. That came later. They grew up in marriage together and grew up harmoniously."

"But, of course, women in that kind of venture depend on a number of things, chief of which are the characters of the two involved. If two people start out, not blindly or passionately in love, but with a supreme respect for each other, the chances are excellent for a contented life. But if one or the other lacks the redeeming grace of intelligently surveying

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

A Card Is Enough.

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think it is proper to give a girl a birthday present when I have only gone out with her once? No, a birthday present is not called for, and I'm sure she would hesitate to accept one from you. A card will convey your good wishes."

"The horizon of marriage and willingly compromising where compromise is needed, the chances of attaining happiness will be poor."

"By intelligent survey of the matrimonial state I mean a hard headed calculation of what you've brought into it and what you're willing to give to make it go. If you expect to find contentment and you bring none of the qualities yourself that will learn it, the home investment will prove a failure."

"The luckiest gamble is when love is present. Two people in love can face difficulties together more easily than two people not in love."

"I think one can waste years waiting for love to come. But that is because one may entertain the most impossible illusions about love and a lover. I wouldn't urge a young girl to marry a man she was not in love with. But the older girl, with a good home in prospect, if the home in what she wants, might safely be persuaded to use her head about a man she liked well and use it after she's married to him, as well as before."

ILLINOIS CROPS HELPED BY RAIN; REAPERS WAIT

Wheat Turning Golden;
Oats Makes Strides.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Kankakee, Ill., June 25.—[Special.]—Rain has worked wonders in the fields of central Illinois. In crossing the state today, taking the course of a row from Quincy to Kankakee, I found the corn cleared for a grand race between corn, small grains, and meadow.

Crops are late, but the whole countryside is of a rich color, blocked out in varying shades of green that range from dark green in the cornfields to a yellowish green in the wheat. Even the most optimistic farmers are surprised at the progress crops have made during the last ten days.

Oats Crop Improved.

The oats crop that was so puny two or three weeks ago has been kept green by the cool, moist weather, giving the heads a better chance to fill. Dry weather recently gave the oats a severe setback, causing the heads to form on extremely short straw. Recent rains have added many bushels to the crop.

Haying will be in full swing in the central counties of this state before many days. The crop is spotted, clover, and alfalfa, as a result of the severe winter, that they are planning to cut their oats for hay. A few farmers in Fulton county already have cut their oats for hay. North of Peoria, where the oats are thinner, much of the crop no doubt will be found more valuable for hay than grain.

Cutting Wheat in Missouri.

The harvesting of wheat has just started in Monroe and Shelby counties, Missouri, about fifty or sixty miles west of Hannibal.

Wheat fields in Illinois are turning yellow almost as far north as Kankakee. The grain is going through its final ripening stages in Adams, Brown, Schuyler, Fulton, Tazewell, Peoria, and adjoining counties. Binders will be humming throughout central Illinois as far north as Peoria within another week.

Corn in Illinois is generally late, but it has developed rapidly since the rains. The stand is fairly good and the fields are of a fine color in most cases.

"TEAPOT" SAVES
MOB PARIS BANKS WITH OLD FRANCES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, June 25.—The official announcement that stabilization of the franc finally had been realized brought thousands of patrons of the old-fashioned stocking savings bank trekking to the Bank of France early this morning, expecting to receive French francs in exchange for the dirty bills they had salted away in post-war years.

Clogging the corridors of the great bank, they stepped up to the windows one after another, nervously handing over their savings to un sympathetic clerks, who turned them away with the laconic statement, "Impossible."

But what about the stabilization? yelled the angry crowd of housewives and factory workers, who had bolted from their morning's work in order to get a bagful of shiny gold pieces. Above the menaces of the crowd officials finally managed to explain that any hoarder who would bring in 200,000 francs would be handed a natty gold ingot, but there was "nothing doing" with any smaller amount.

Stocks and Bonds Drop.

PARIS, June 25.—(AP)—The bourse took Premier Poincare's stabilization bill without much pleasure today. Stocks and government bonds went down considerably, while both the dollar and pound were lower than at any time in many months.

The franc was much stronger than the stabilized rate, the dollar being 6 points under the legal rate and sterling 13 points lower.

PETER GENNA IS RELEASED.

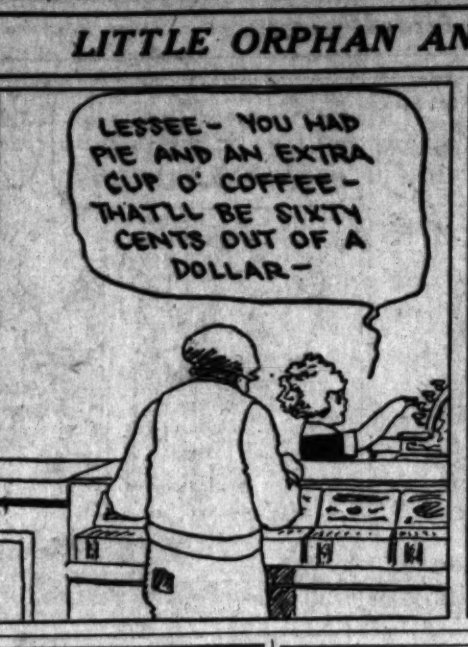

Peter Genna, 32 years old, one of the notorious Genna brothers, alcohol benders, was freed yesterday when he was arraigned in the South City street court on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Chicago's Own
Radio Artists
Please Elmer

Selinger and Johnson Are Among Headliners.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.
Chicago, not New York, supplied radio's real programs last evening. Henry Selinger, violinist, and Herbert Johnson, pianist, in their weekly recital from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, broke the bonds of the usual short, familiar numbers, and played Schmitt's suite for violin and piano, No. 1, of four movements, this being the most ambitious program these artists have yet put out. It must have taken their audience quite by surprise.

The first movement is a quiet, restful, and very pretty song for violin. The second movement is a playful caprice between violin and piano, containing as pretty an effect with the violin repeating on one note as I have ever heard.

Selinger and Johnson Are Among Headliners.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Chicago, not New York, supplied radio's real programs last evening. Henry Selinger, violinist, and Herbert Johnson, pianist, in their weekly recital from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, broke the bonds of the usual short, familiar numbers, and played Schmitt's suite for violin and piano, No. 1, of four movements, this being the most ambitious program these artists have yet put out. It must have taken their audience quite by surprise.

The first movement is a quiet, restful, and very pretty song for violin. The second movement is a playful caprice between violin and piano, containing as pretty an effect with the violin repeating on one note as I have ever heard.

The third movement, consisting of a song with variations, departs radically from the spirit and tonality of the preceding movements, and also contains novel obligato passages for both the piano and the violin.

The fourth movement is a "Rondo," but it did not follow the strict rondo form, and in addition it is somewhat at variance in character from the first two movements.

And further of interest, this recital closed with a Beethoven selection arranged by Godfrey Ludlow, the violinist, who has frequently heard through KTV. Mr. Selinger gave this selection something of the big, broad tone characteristic of Mr. Ludlow's style.

Now, from 8 to 9:30, we had Don Doherty's piano quintet in C minor, No. 1, played by the WEBB string quartet, with Carl Linner at the piano. It was evident that this is a pure, abstract salon music, with no story, no special mood to express, but music in its pure state to hear and enjoy. Basically it is heavy music, solid and complicated in structure, yet with all its solidity it is very much alive.

To kill

To kill crawling pests, such as roaches, fleas, bed bugs—Black Flag Powder is better than any Liquid. Roaches, for instance, hide in cracks. So you need something that will be around when the pests do crawl out. Blow Black Flag Powder. It won't evaporate. The pests breathe the Black Flag Powder. And die! Quickly! For Black Flag is the powder. Insect-killer made. Powder 15c and up.

Some prefer Powder to kill crawling pests—roaches, ants, etc., and Black Flag Liquid to kill flying pests—flies, mosquitoes, etc.

It's a great temptation to start a article on baby talk by writing a whole column of the affectionate gibberish that goes under that name, just to show how far it is from real language. But I will desist, because I don't know of anything that looks more utterly ridiculous in print—and I hate to think of all the really nice, otherwise sensible and intelligent mother whose one slip is baby talk, who might be made to squirm by seeing themselves in cold type.

I am not for a system of rearing which precludes a show of affection or the use of endearing terms—but I must say I think talking baby talk to the baby is a little hard on him—or her. Of course we know it is instigated by an overwhelming sense of his littleness and loveliness. The strongest women will succumb to it when confronted with their own or other people's babies.

But talking baby talk to him is like talking to him in his disadvantage of the baby. You're his precept and his example. He hears your speech more than any one else's—and it's too bad when his first idea of certain words is a garble.

For some subtle reason that we are not sure of, it is more difficult for most children to learn to talk than it is for others. One baby in our family did not talk until she was three years old—but when she did she jumped into full speech. Some children talk fluently and early but can't read or write. Others are very intelligent and get along with other words. There are the babies who say very, very, and,

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—We might call this model a fantasy of summer, for its entire charm and originality depend upon the fan-shaped folds of both corsage and skirt. Such fan-shaped movements as these are much in the fashion picture of today and they are rejected, not only in the popular jobs but in various types of skirt plaiting and skirt drapery.

Aside from its line, this model from the house of Worth is notable because of its combination of materials in the skirt we find a navy taffeta figured in small white flowers and this draped over an underskirt of the same navy satin composing the bodice. A girle of the final line in a bow at the front and a final line of interest in the standing collar.

Taffetas, both plain and figured, are enjoying a favor not accorded them many years. For both afternoon and eve-to for is, and there are those who talk a fascinating language untill they are asked to say their part. We make it harder for them than they have to make it. We have to be by giving them a wrong start by talking bare talk of our own invention, or by speaking back to them the, to us, endearing baby lingo that represents their best effort at the time? It is taking an unfair advantage of them.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.
Working Girl Needs Clothing.

"I know a young working girl who until recently had been out of work for a long time. She has been having a great deal of difficulty getting along and now is badly in need of clothing. She is still wearing last winter's coats and there is little chance of her getting any other unless we are able to furnish her with a few new garments. I would like to see if we could not furnish her with a few new garments in her size, 16, she would be most grateful to get them."

side drapery, but today's model illustrates the fact that taffeta is by no means dependent on any one factor. So pliant is the present version that it adapts itself to almost any of the current skirt manipulations.

One of the interesting developments in taffeta occurs in the black jacketed dresses which sometimes combine the black with white lingerie and sometimes with the habitual white tulle.

"You're Very Truly."

Being employed as a stenographer in a business office, I chanced one day to write a letter for my friend. I was concentrating very intently upon the transcription of my shorthand notes, when, just as I was at the conclusion of the letter writing the usual ending, "You're very truly, the" one rang.

Reacting to my mortification, I found myself repeating part of my letter, "You're very truly," over the wire,

Don't Break the Spell

The magic of the moon compels many a man to commit himself—when some of them least intend. But it isn't always the easiest thing to arrange such a natural, romantic setting. Many soft summer evenings are spent in the glow of the lamplight. Then you must be especially careful to look charming, because artificial light isn't as generous. A shiny nose, for instance, may break the magic of romance. You may break it yourself by powdering
